Britain Rejects Share U.N. Plan For Palestine

LONDON (AP)—Britain has decided against accepting, or substantially sharing in, the Soviet-U.S. plan for partitioning Palestine, high Whitehall sources said today.

Under the Russian-U.S. plan Britain would be asked by the United Nations' Assembly to continue to be responsible for law and order in Palestine until May 1, 1948.

(A British U.N. delegation spokesman at Lake Success, N.Y., said Britain would make an official declaration on the plan to a subcommittee on Palestine meeting later today.)

Disclosure of the decision came a few hours after the cabinet's regular weekly meeting.

The informants said Britain's delegation at Lake Success had been instructed to inform the United States:

1. Britain will not be a party to the use of force in the implementation of any solution in the Holy Land.

2. Britain will not be prepared to make any substantial contribution towards implementation of a settlement not acceptable to both Arabs and Jews.

3. Britain will not by herself carry out the Soviet-U.S. partition plan, which would require this country to remain as mandatory until next May, when the process of transferring power to the Arab and Jewish states should begin.

The Soviet-U.S. plan was adopted after a series of compromise efforts in which Canada's delegation at Lake Success played a prominent part.

Notts County Pays $68,000 For Lawton

LONDON (Reuters)—Tommy Lawton, centre forward on England's international soccer teams, was transferred today to Notts County of the Third Division for a record price understood to be $17,000 ($68,000).

Notts County outbid wealthy First Division clubs after negotiations which started in August when Lawton asked his own team, Chelsea, to transfer him after a disagreement. Lawton played for Chelsea, one of the 22 teams in the First Division, for two years, and played for England in internationals against Scotland, Ireland, Wales and continental teams 50 times.

Lift Livestock Embargo

ST. BONIFACE, Man. (CP)—The embargo placed Wednesday on the movement of livestock into the stock pens here will be lifted tonight, Union Stockyard officials announced today. The embargo, made necessary because of an overloaded market during the last few days, did not affect cattle already en route to the pens at the time it was imposed.

Ukraine Elected To Occupy Seat On Security Council

By ROSS MUNRO
NEW YORK (CP)—The United Nations' General Assembly today elected the Ukraine to the Security Council seat which Poland will vacate next Jan. 1.

The final vote was 35 for the Ukraine and two for India, despite the fact that the new dominion Wednesday announced its withdrawal from the contest which had been deadlocked between the two states since last Oct. 1.

Fifteen members abstained in the secret ballot.

TRUSTEESHIP SEATS

The deadlock over the two trusteeship council seats continued when the seventh ballot did not give any of the four contestants—the Philippines, Costa Rica, Norway and Siam—the necessary two-thirds of the 35 seats.

Later, in another ballot, Costa Rica and the Philippines were elected.

The Assembly today was set for consideration of 23 items in morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

tings as delegates drove to end this year's meeting within the next two weeks.

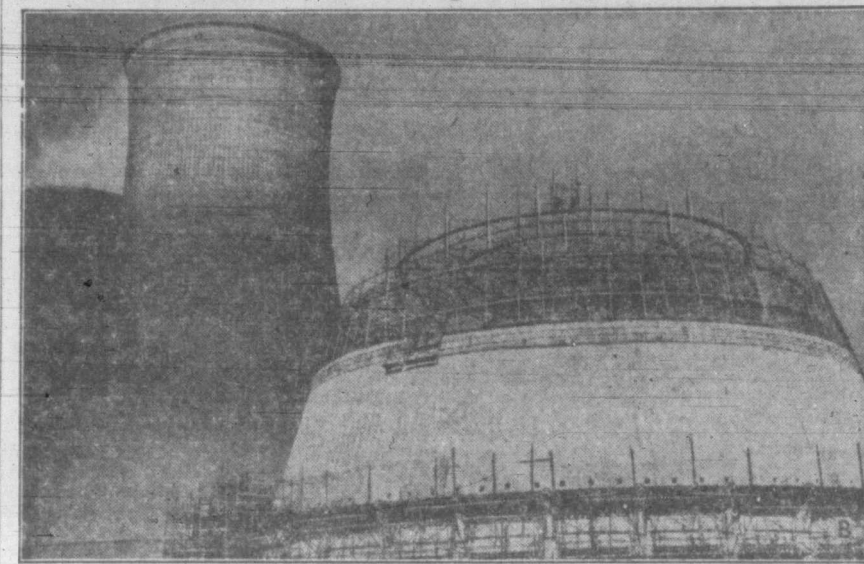

The top item on today's agenda was the battle for the unfilled Security Council seat and the Ukraine's election, before the vote, was taken for granted after India's sudden withdrawal Wednesday.

In explaining this action, the Indians said the deadlock "made many people consider the desirability of changing the entire procedure of election" and for this reason "India withdraws from the contest."

This was interpreted by some observers as an indirect slap at Canada, which has been seeking to streamline Assembly procedure to make it more workable.

With the Ukraine elected, taking the place of Poland, the Soviet bloc will continue to have two effective minority votes in the Council from next Jan. 1 when the three new members—Canada, Argentina and the Ukraine—will take their places at the table.

More Power Will Spark Rising Production

Modernistic shapes, arising in Britain at a cost of $300,000,000 in the next two years, will more than double the country's electricity supply to meet the demands of the increased industrial effort. Work has already started on 63 new British power stations capable of generating 5,200,000 kilowatts. Pictured here is extension work, involving duplication of existing buildings, at a power station. It will be the largest in central England when completed.

1 Killed, 6 Hurt As Reds Riot During Marseilles Strike; Troops Called Out

MARSEILLES (AP)—Troops and mobile guards were called out to patrol the streets of Marseilles today as Communist labor leaders issued a general strike, calling following a day of rioting in which one person was fatally wounded and six others hurt.

While the Communists claimed their strike call had met a wide response among factory hands, indications as the day advanced were that workers were sticking to their jobs except in trades in which their unions previously had ordered strikes.

Affected were all seamen, longshoremen and members of the metal, building and chemical workers' unions. Some food packers also were reported out.

SHIPS DELAYED

All shipping in the port was tied up by the strike, which began as a protest against an increase in streetcar fares and assumed broader proportions following the arrest of four union demonstrators Monday.

A meeting of the Rhone Delta Central Council of Trade Unions was called for tomorrow to decide whether to heed the Communist appeal for a general strike. An affirmative decision would affect the entire department—an area extending along more than 60 miles of industrialized coastline and taking in the inland cities of Arles and Aix.

At least a score of persons, including Mayor Carlini and Assistant Mayor Pierre Milani, were injured during yesterday's rioting. Both officials, members of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Rassemblement du Peuple Français which ousted the Communists in recent municipal elections, were beaten by Communist demonstrators and spent the night in hospital.

The most serious casualties occurred Wednesday night when, according to accounts in the moderate press, gangster elements operating some bars turned machine guns on demonstrators who were said to be looting their establishments. The Communist organ, L'Humanite, ran a screaming headline saying: "De Gaulle's murder Vincent Voulant—20 other patriots wounded by gangster bullets." The paper said the shootings took place "under the protection of (Socialist) Premier Ramadier's prefect."

Voulant, 20, a member of the left-wing Union of Young French Republicans, was wounded during one of the cafe shootings Wednesday night and died several hours later in a hospital.

Two others were reported in critical condition with bullet wounds received in other outbreaks which closed up several of the city's bars and night clubs. The rioting started during the hearing of charges against four trade unionists accused of attacking police Monday in a demonstration over the streetcar fare raises.

FLAGS TORN DOWN

A crowd broke into the palace of justice, smashed furniture and tore down British and U.S. flags when it heard that three of the accused were being held for further investigation after receiving 10-day suspended sentences. Union leaders at once called a waterfront strike.

At the city hall a crowd of demonstrators interrupted a hearing on the fare increases, presided over by Mayor Carlini, a member of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Rassemblement du Peuple Français. A woman spectator started the disturbance by slapping a councillor in the face, and in the melee which followed 16 persons were hurt, including the mayor and eight councillors.

No Arena Ice Until Summer, Says Contractor's Official

All hopes of being able to get the necessary pipe for the Memorial Arena refrigeration plant this year was dashed today by J. Bews, Vancouver representative of the Canadian Ice Machine Company, which holds the contract to install the plant.

He said approximately 10 miles of pipe will be needed for the arena plant and the news from the mills at present is "very bad." "The mills won't even make promises any more as to when we can get delivery of pipe," Mr. Bews stated. "They give us our quota of whatever the output is and we have to stretch it as far as possible."

He said, however, that he hoped to be able to get the necessary materials so that the plant could be installed by next summer.

Asked about the possibilities of buying a surplus refrigeration plant from the navy, Mr. Bews said he doubted if it would be possible, and in any event he did not advise using second-hand pipe when it had to be imbedded in a concrete floor, as the difficulties of making repairs on worn pipe would be extremely difficult.

Guard Says Inmates At Mimico Prison Come, Go At Will

TORONTO (CP)—A guard dismissed from his post at the Mimico Reformatory three weeks ago charges that prisoners are allowed to go and come as they please, to sell goods on the outside and to become intoxicated.

L. Jervelund, dismissed on grounds of negligence Oct. 18, Wednesday night claimed that discipline at the Ontario reformatory had been "slipping" for the last eight or nine months. He said the best guards were quitting because they could not get any co-operation in controlling prisoners.

The new Toronto council, following a statement made to members Wednesday by Jervelund, passed a resolution urging Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley to convene the civil servants' board of appeal to review Jervelund's case.

7 Douks Found Guilty Of Arson

VERNON, B.C. (CP)—Seven Doukhobors, six men and one woman, convicted on arson charges in connection with Kootenay Valley incendiary fires last September, will be sentenced at the end of the assizes.

The seven pleaded innocent. They are: Jack J. Lazaoff, Tim G. Savinkoff, Wm. M. Novokhonoff, Peter C. Kastrukoff, Mary Astaforoff, Pete P. Deminoff and Paul Metin.

All accused are Sons of Freedom and none was represented by counsel. Savinkoff explained he does not believe in man-made laws or in war.

Report Union Prepared To Take 15-Cent Raise With 1-Year Contract

Dutch Parliament Hears Mr. King Speak For Peace

THE HAGUE (CP)—Prime Minister King, the first North American political leader to address The Netherlands Houses of Parliament, today appealed to nations with democratic ideals to continue their co-operation to attain the ideals of peace.

"If we try to have our ideals prevail, all will come out well, at least I pray it may be so," said the Canadian Prime Minister, standing in the 700-year-old Ridderzaal as the guest of parliament. Only Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime Prime Minister, and Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa previously had been given this honor.

Mr. King, who arrived Wednesday in The Netherlands on a European tour prior to attending the royal wedding in London Nov. 20, was welcomed by Professor Roelf Kraneburg, president of the upper chamber, as "the Grand Old Man of Canada."

VISIT POSTPONED

Earlier in the day he had postponed a visit to Prime Minister Dr. Louis Beel because of fatigue. Instead, Foreign Minister Baron Boetelaer van Oosterhout had called on the Canadian Prime Minister.

Nearly 150 members of the first and second chambers, representatives of the royal family and diplomats heard the Canadian Prime Minister speak from the dais under a high red velvet canopy in the hall where mediaeval knights banqueted.

In welcoming Mr. King, Kraneburg described Canadian soldiers who entered Dutch towns and villages in their jeeps as "a living testimony" to the liberation.

In a tribute to the Canadian Prime Minister, the chairman of the joint assembly of the Dutch parliament said Mr. King's record premiership of 20 years "sounds almost like a fairy tale" to Netherlands, for "no Dutch statesman has ever presided over the Cabinet Council for so long."

On arriving in Holland Wednesday, Mr. King received from the village of Putte a gift of delft blue plate bearing the names of 12 Canadian soldiers killed there. At Bergen-op-Zoom, where there is a Canadian military cemetery, he was given a bound copy of the history of the community, which he said he would leave to the Canadian state as a reminder of the bonds uniting the two countries.

Labor Minister Gordon S. Wismer met George Morrison, international representative of the striking Street Railwaymen's Union, in Vancouver at noon today and it was unofficially reported here that a strike settlement formula would most likely be reached during the afternoon.

The strike, which saw 2,800 union members taking their turns on the picket lines, today went into its 26th day, tying the June, 1919, transit strike as the longest in British Columbia's history.

Meanwhile residents of the three cities affected, Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, were cheered by the Labor Minister's statement Wednesday night that "the outlook is much more hopeful for an amicable settlement."

They coupled this with the optimism registered by both sides of the dispute.

George Morrison, for the union, Wednesday night said "I believe we are beginning to get somewhere," while A. E. Grauer, B.C.E.R. president, said "I knew Mr. Wismer would get the co-operation of both parties and I am glad he is hopeful of a settlement."

Mr. Wismer said he had put certain proposals before the company and union representatives at a series of meetings Wednesday, but declined to give details.

He said that the "men and the company are friendly, and co-operative."

Reports—neither confirmed nor denied—said the men were prepared to accept a 15-cent-an-hour pay boost, based on a one-year contract. Earlier demands called for 20 cents an hour plus a 40-hour week with no reduction in pay, based on a two-year agreement. Offers of a 10-cent pay boost twice were rejected.

Today Mayor Percy George received an answer from A. E. Grauer, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, accepting the arbitration suggestion for the strike settlement; and from G. M. Morrison, vice-president of the Street Railwaymen's Union, asking that arbitration talk be withheld until it is seen whether or not Mr. Wismer will also be invited, to discuss whether the municipalities will accept the proposed price and continue with the plan to set up the metropolitan board.

Ald. Cabellu said there has been some difficulty in arriving at a basis for setting the valuation on the supply system and the property owned by the city because of lack of complete figures. He said it could be done on an appraisal basis, or on an earning power basis. Also to be taken into consideration is how the sale of the water supply system will affect the city's budget. A considerable loss of revenue will result, but the city will also have a number of heavy expenses eliminated.

The plan is to try and put the metropolitan water board scheme before the ratepayers in December, Ald. Cabellu said, because both Dr. A. E. Cleveland, special commissioner on South Vancouver Island water supply, and F. C. Stewart, consulting engineer, agreed that at least $1,500,000 must be spent on the supply system within the next year.

The new work will be to connect Humpback with Japan Gulch, and also to bring in a new pipe line. If the work is to be done next year orders for the pipe must be placed immediately.

There has been a question raised as to whether Victoria can raise the $5,000,000 estimated necessary to renovate the water supply system within the next four or five years without affecting its borrowing powers for other essential public works such as roads, lights, and schools.

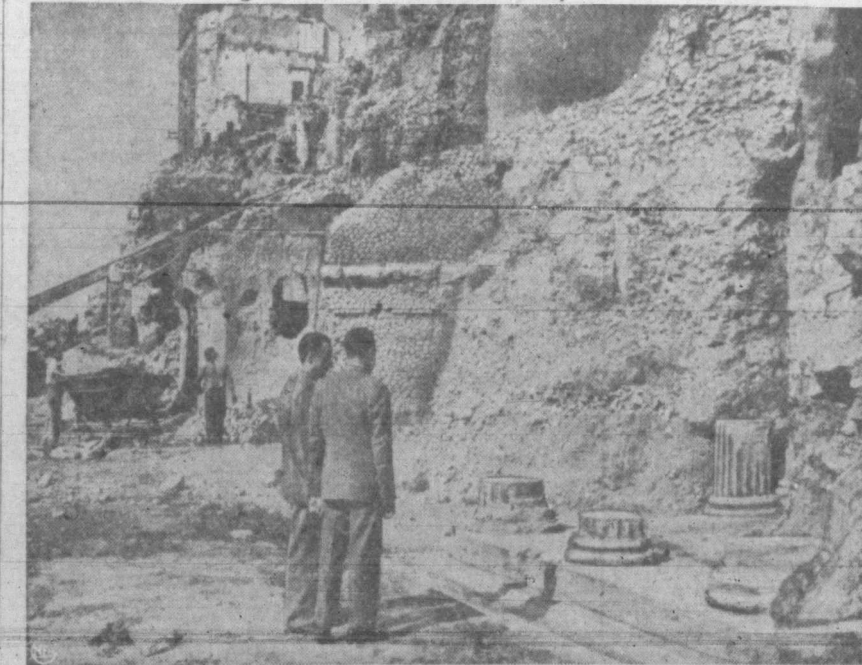

Figures on the possible price of the supply system have varied from $2,500,000 or approximately the extent of the city's capital debt for waterworks, to $20,000,000, which might be the real value of the system and its potential earning power.

Special Council Meeting To Set Price On Water System

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for Monday morning to set the price to be asked by the city for the water supply system, in the event it is turned over to a metropolitan water board, Ald. F. N. Cabellu, chairman of the water board, announced today.

This will be followed by a meeting with representatives of Oak Bay and Saanich Wednesday evening, to which Esquimalt

Italian Socialists Attempting To Heal Split Over Communism

ROME (AP)—A modest restaurant on Rome's Via Della Croce bears the florid name "I Re Degli Amici"—"The Kings of Friends."

In its back room, if anywhere, the reunification of the Italian Socialist Party, now full of schism, will be hammered out. Old Socialist friends, now at odds, meet there daily and talk about reunion.

This reunification of the Socialists, who have divided and subdivided over the knotty issue of joint action with the Communists, holds out the best promise—in the opinion of many observers—of halting the disintegrating processes threatening to reduce Italian politics to chaos or violence.

That is why Italians keep close watch on the Socialist boys in the back room at "I Re Degli Amici."

There almost every day is novelist-journalist Ignazio Silone, important because he personally symbolizes the Socialists' desire to get back together. He and some 30 like thinkers have formed "Europa Socialista," a group dedicated to national and continental unity.

There, occasionally, is Giuseppe Saragat, dapper former ambassador to France and former Speaker of the Constituent Assembly, whose refusal to see his party married to communism split it wide open last January.

EYES ON LOMBARDO

There, finally, is Ivan Matteo Lombardo, the big, bluff Milan business man and deputy forthright critique of the results of 10 months of playing ball with the Communists set speculation simmering.

Many in Italy believe Lombardo, who combines in unique measure a spotless Socialist record and the confidence of the western democracies, may be the man around whom Italian socialism will rally.

If socialism does unite around Lombardo and men who think like him—an outcome by no means assured—it partly will be because he and three other deputies were bold enough to brave their party's "gag rule" and speak out publicly against the 10-months-old pact binding it to the Communists.

Medicine Hat House Destroyed By Blast

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—A natural gas explosion from a street main leakage blasted a small house here early today, causing serious injuries to 70-year-old Mrs. Caroline McKenzie and burns and shock to her 35-year-old son, Erskine.

The house was blown 10 feet in all directions and Mrs. McKenzie was catapulted from her bed to the yard. The son was in the kitchen and was burned about the face and arms in a flash fire that followed the explosion. Mrs. McKenzie is reported in critical condition.

Neighboring homes were also rocked and several people were blown out of their beds by the force of the explosion. Houses on either side were set ablaze, as were trees along the avenue. The fire was brought under control in about an hour.

Cause of the explosion was believed a leak from the new gas main on the street which followed the pipes into the house and then exploded.

Governor Host To Blind Citizens

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, with Mrs. John Hart, right, and Capt. M. C. Robinson, M.B.E., national director, Canadian Institute for the Blind, and Mrs. Robinson, were seated at the head table during the party given Wednesday afternoon at Government House. Mayor Percy E. George and Mrs. George were also seated at the head table. (See story on page 8.)

To Probe Deaths Of Infant Sisters

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP)—An inquest into the deaths of the two baby daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Draper will be held in about two weeks, when police investigations are completed. Crown Attorney F. E. D. Wallace said today.

Investigations started when it was found the little girls had both died of fractures of the skulls, 14 months apart.

The death of Nancy Carol, the Drapers' five-week-old second daughter, occurred in the Brantford General Hospital Oct. 24. Death of Betty Ann, the other child, occurred Aug. 25, 1946. The body was exhumed after discovery of the reason for Nancy Carol's death.

READY FOR 600 M.P.H. COMBAT—Fastest operational aircraft of the U.S. Air Force, the P-84 Thunderjet, above, is "fully qualified" for combat at speeds above 600 m.p.h., following recent service tests at Farmingdale, L.I. The plane's guns fire about 50 per cent faster than fighter plane arms used in World War II, making possible aerial combat at jet speeds. A new order for $15,000,000 worth of P-84s brings to 550 the number of Thunderjets now scheduled for delivery.

Biologist To Study B.C. Food Products

Dr. Paul C. Trussell, above, will take charge of the B.C. Research Council's research on food products and other biological problems.

Research previously conducted by Dr. Trussell has included problems on soils, foods and the antibiotics such as penicillin, actinomycin and gramicidin.

Dr. Trussell graduated with honors in agriculture from the University of B.C. and obtained his doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin, majoring in agricultural bacteriology. For the past three years he has been chief microbiologist in the research division of Ayerst, McKenna and Harrison, Montreal. He has also been employed by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. and the Dominion Experimental Farm in Summerland, and was consulting bacteriologist for the American Scientific Laboratories in Illinois.

Walkie-Talkies For British Newspapers

LONDON (CP)—The Newspaper Society has announced that negotiations have been completed with the General Post Office under which United Kingdom newspapers may apply to the G.P.O. for licenses to install and work "walkie-talkie" radio equipment.

Probable cost of a license will be between £5 ($20) and £7 10s ($30) per station. Army-type walkie-talkie sets may not be used. The society now is investigating the merits of various types of commercial equipment.

Maximum power of any set is limited to one watt and two wave channels have been allocated. It will be some months before walkie-talkie equipment can be made generally available to the press and there is little prospect of it being used in coverage of the Royal Wedding Nov. 20.

To avoid impossible congestion of the narrow channels allotted to the press, newspaper organizations will be responsible for deciding which papers will be granted facilities.

Post office officials said there is no intention at present to permit newspapers to use more powerful mobile transmitters of the type mounted in motor vehicles during the war by the armed services.

Make Final Plans To Bring Wounded Canon From Arctic

WINNIPEG (CP)—Final plans for the evacuation of seriously wounded Canon John H. Turner from his Anglican mission post at Moffat Inlet, 400 miles within the Arctic Circle, were outlined today in a joint army-R.C.A.F. statement.

Wednesday the aircraft, piloted by F.O. Bob Race, reached Coral Harbor on the southwestern tip of Southampton Island after a flight from Churchill. Today, weather permitting, it was scheduled to fly the 600-mile route to Moffat Inlet to reconnoitre the airstrip laid down by Capt. Guy d'Artois and the other three paratroopers who last month parachuted to the aid of Canon Turner. He was injured early last September when a rifle accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his head.

If conditions are not favorable for a wheel landing, the aircraft, dubbed the Snowbird, will fly 200 miles to the meteorological station at Resolute Bay, where skis will be substituted for wheels.

Then it will return to the lone mission station, pick up Canon Turner, his wife, two children and the four paratroopers, fly back to Resolute Bay to reconvert to wheels, and from there to Coral Harbor, Churchill and Winnipeg.

From Moffat Inlet to Winnipeg via Resolute Bay will mean a flight of almost 2,000 miles.

Today's statement said that the flight, while planned for the earliest possible moment, is dependent on weather conditions. Early today a 40-mile wind and blowing snow presented a grim outlook.

Wisner Promises Full-Scale Probe On Gulf Stream

VANCOUVER (CP)—Attorney General Gordon Wisner has pledged a full-scale investigation into charges arising out of the recent Powell River inquest into the Oct. 11 Gulf Stream marine tragedy in which five persons were drowned.

The charges were made by Mr. Justice Sidney Smith, presiding at the Board of Transport hearings, who claimed the coroner's jury had exceeded its duties by "drawing out to three days an inquest which should have taken an hour."

Mr. Wisner said he had not had time to launch an investigation, but his office has started an inquiry.

Capt. John Craddock, master of the Motor Vessel Gulf Stream which piled up on Dinner Rock, 80 miles north of here with loss of five lives, Oct. 11, said Wednesday night he would appeal the six months' suspension of his master's ticket.

Craddock's certificate, along with that of Second Officer Raymond C. Ketchum, suspended for four months, was ordered temporarily canceled as a result of the Federal Board of Transport hearing.

Engines Too Smoky, Railwaymen Punished

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday suspended four firemen for two days without pay for contributing to Erie's smoke-control problem. Eli May, Erie smoke-control director, said the four were suspended by the railroad for permitting their engines to emit too much smoke while traveling through the city.

Britain Needs Physical Controls To Beat Inflation, Experts Say

LONDON (Reuter)—Prominent British economists and businessmen felt today the government's real anti-inflationary policy must be to rely on physical controls, including "direction" of labor, sales of gold and other overseas assets, and Marshall Plan aid.

Since Wednesday's budget was designed to absorb only £48,000,000 ($192,000,000) of inflationary potential by March 31, and since Britain will be getting no stopgap United States aid by that date, the onus falls on the physical controls and on living on reserves.

SHARP CONTRAST

Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton himself appears to accept this view. The whole grave tone of his broadcast Wednesday night contrasted remarkably with his own previous abounding optimism.

He said the present emergency was no less serious than the war. Unless courageously faced "it will vitally undermine our standard of life and even endanger our national survival. We are having to use our last reserves of gold and dollars to meet the bill. But we cannot allow our gold reserves to fall below the safety level."

Living on reserves does, of course, get inflation off the premises. It need not wholly fall on the gold reserves. New money from such things as the sale of British-owned railways in South America would have the same effects, while all the money from such sales could, unless counteracted by appropriate credit policy, powerfully reinforce the Chancellor's cheap money policy and boost the gilded market.

The whole tenor of the Harrison report and other responsible American comment is that such policies ought not to be pursued; in particular, that the United States ought to control Marshall dollars so as to ensure that European finance ministers do not use them as a way of evading their own anti-inflationary responsibilities. But unquestionably the Chancellor can pursue this policy if he chooses, and he appears to be doing it.

Princess Elizabeth Crosses Picket Line

LONDON (CP)—Princess Elizabeth drove through strike pickets to the Savoy Hotel Wednesday to attend a flower ball in aid of disabled men and women. Striking hotel workers carrying placards paraded around around three sides of the hotel, but were cleared by police from the entrance for the princess' arrival.

Krim To Join Mufti

CAIRO (AP)—A reliable source said today that Abd el Krim, the Riff leader who fought the French and Spaniards in Morocco in the 1920's, was planning to go to Lebanon soon to join Haj Amin el Hussein, the exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, "in the struggle of the Arabs for Palestine independence." Abd el Krim escaped from French custody in Egypt last spring and was given refuge by the Egyptian government.

Mother-in-Law
Of Hitler Acquitted

MUNICH (AP) — Hitler's mother-in-law has been cleared of charges that she was a Nazi. A denazification court here recently absolved Frau Franziska Braun and is scheduled to rule soon in the case of her husband, Wilhelm Braun.

They are the parents of Eva Braun, the blonde Bavarian who became Hitler's wife only a few hours before they committed suicide together in a bunker in beleaguered Berlin in the closing days of the war.

Boy Remanded On Hold-up Charge
Of Mail Collector

The 16-year-old local boy who held up Harold Porter, 1017 Burdett Avenue, at the point of a gun while he was making his Royal Mail collections on the evening of Nov. 1, appeared in Saanich juvenile court Wednesday afternoon and pleaded guilty to a charge of "stopping the mail with the intention to search."

He was remanded to next Wednesday for sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

A conviction for such a charge in senior courts carries a sentence from five years upward to life.

The youth, in making his confession, told police officers he threw the gun in the Sooke River. A navy diver was employed for several days to find the discarded weapon, but all efforts proved futile.

Constable Allan Quinn of the Sooke post of the B.C. Provincial Police is credited by Saanich police in whose jurisdiction the hold-up took place at Boleskine Road and Douglas Street, with apprehending the youthful gunman.

Constable Quinn got several reports of a "suspicious looking boy" seen and given lifts about his district, finally recognized who the youth was, and in company with Constable Jack Lockie picked the lad up while riding his bicycle in the View Royal district last Wednesday night. After two hours of close questioning the officers had the full story of his actions in pulling the hold-up.

Big 4-Point Deer
Proves To Be Doe

NANAIMO (CP) — One for Ripley: Jim Blunt, local hunter, drew a bead on a magnificent 200-pound deer Tuesday near Campbell River. It looked like a perfect four-point buck with a fine horn spread. He dropped it with one shot, but brought it direct to Game Warden Frank Greenfield here Wednesday because he had unwittingly broken the Game Act. The four-point buck was a doe, female in every respect save the horns, and the most outstanding animal freak ever seen here.

Californians Seek Pacific Paradise

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A dozen farmers, and the wives of five of them, departed Wednesday for a Pacific jungle island, intent on starting their lives anew.

Described by their leader as "thoroughly discouraged trying to live here in the face of high prices and the housing shortage," they embarked aboard the 74-foot tug Aser for Chiriqui, off the province of Chiriqui, Panama.

In charge of Harper Henry of Los Angeles, who recently purchased the island, the intrepid voyagers hope to reach their destination in about three weeks, build homes, sow crops and make brooms to provide revenue.

The ocean is only 3.44 per cent salt.

Britain Withdraws
Supreme Commander
From India-Pakistan

NEW DELHI (REUTER) — The British government will withdraw Field Marshal Sir Claude Auchinleck, Supreme Commander of India and Pakistan Dominion Forces, and his staff Nov. 30 owing to complaints of the supreme commander of "the absence of the necessary spirit of co-operation between the principal parties concerned." It was officially announced here Wednesday.

Supreme headquarters, which had the task of reconstituting the former armed forces of British India in August, will "automatically cease to exist" Nov. 30, the announcement said.

A "commander British Forces in India and Pakistan" will take over the responsibility of Auchinleck for formations of the British army and R.A.F. and for British officers and other ranks serving in India and Pakistan.

This new commander, with headquarters here, will function until Dec. 31 and will have no responsibility whatever for the two Dominion armies or any concern with them except in respect of British troops serving with them.

From the beginning of the New Year two small independent British headquarters under a major-general and an air commodore, in Karachi and Deolali, will administer formations and individuals awaiting repatriation to Britain.

Paper Says German
Spy Caused Fire In Big Ship Normandie

NEW YORK (AP) — France's American newspaper, said Wednesday a German spy was responsible for the blaze aboard the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie which converted the ship into a flame-charred hulk at its pier here Feb. 9, 1942.

The paper said the spy now is held in Germany on a murder charge.

It quoted him as saying several former members of the German-American Bund were working on the Normandie, which was being converted to a U.S. troop transport, and that these men were among those acting under his orders who set fire to life belts with their solder lamps.

G. F. Estrangin, the paper's news editor, who wrote the story, said it is based on material obtained in New York and Europe.

The day after the Normandie fire, District Attorney Frank Hogan attributed the disaster to sparks from a welder's torch and said "there is no evidence of sabotage."

France's American said the spy told the story to an Allied information officer in Germany.

Stop Bus Strike, Prevent Recurrence, Realtors Urge

The Real Estate Board of Victoria at a meeting Wednesday raised its voice with many other local organizations in asking steps be taken to bring about an early settlement of the transportation strike. A resolution to this effect, submitted by J. Arthur Wild, met with the unanimous support of the meeting.

The resolution states: "Members of the Real Estate Board deprecate the serious deadlock which has been created in the negotiation of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and their employees in the tramway and bus services, and respectfully request immediate steps be taken to arbitrate the differences and bring about speedy settlement."

"Further," the resolution continues, "this meeting urges that all enactments, both provincial and municipal, shall be fully reviewed and, where necessary, changes be immediately made to prevent a recurrence of the present or similar conditions which have been created by the strike of the employees in this instance."

Following presentation of the resolution, Mr. Wild said he was of the opinion the government could enforce arbitration. He also stated that present by-laws seemed to be for the protection of companies and groups rather than for individuals.

Copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to Labor Minister Gordon Wismer and the City Council.

Winch Jr. All Wrong
About B.C.E.R., Says
Company's President

VANCOUVER (CP) — A. E. Grauer, president of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co., said Wednesday the suggestion of Harold E. Winch, C.C.F. Opposition leader, for "expropriation of the company" by the provincial government would be "bound to cause the general public to accuse Mr. Winch of political opportunism."

In an open letter to the C.C.F. leader, it was charged by Mr. Grauer that facts presented by the political leader were either wrong or misinterpreted. Mr. Grauer expressed regret because "public criticism would be pointed to the leader of a party which believes in democratic processes."

The company president outlined specific instances where he claimed Mr. Winch was erroneous in the presentation of facts concerning the present financial set-up of the B.C. Electric Company.

Referring to Mr. Winch's plan for "expropriation" of the company, Mr. Grauer said: "It would seem much more logical if you asked for a special session of the Legislature to deal with the pressing problems of the provincially-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway, which is costing the taxpayers about $3,000,000 yearly," and continued: "I respectfully suggest that there are many pressing problems facing the citizens at large which rank far ahead of the socialization of a self-supporting industry."

"It seems to me what you are advocating . . . is precisely the policy that the B.C. Electric is trying to follow and will follow if it receives the permission of the government," Mr. Grauer said.

Truman's Plane Idled

Circus Animals
Badly Neglected

SEATTLE (AP) — A caretaker in charge of a number of circus animals found in near-starving condition on a farm near here this week was arrested Wednesday on a charge of cruelty to animals.

Ray W. Hinea, manager of the King County Humane Society said he had filed the complaint in Renton Justice Court against James Pearson and made the arrest himself. Pearson will be tried next Monday.

Society investigators hauled feed, meantime, to the farm and also removed the dogs and goats to the society's shelter here. The Tacoma Zoo sent a man to look at the bears, but decided their condition was too poor to warrant taking them, Hinea reported. The circus wagons carry the name "Sparks Circus," but at Macon, Ga., Charles Sparks said he had sold the show in 1929, and is not now connected with it. Hinea said he understood the show had two or three owners and he was trying to trace them.

Says British Delay
U.S. In Germany

BOSTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, former Deputy United States Military Governor in Germany, says British authorities are "an anchor around our necks there as they are moving too slow."

"I wouldn't be surprised if we took over the management of the British zone pretty soon—at least financially," Keating told a meeting of reserve officers here.

Keating said the United States alone had lived up to the Potsdam agreement and he charged that the Russians and French had enslaved Germans in their zones.

Sweden Makes Uranium

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Malte Jacobson, chairman of the Swedish Atomic Committee, said Wednesday Sweden had produced her first piece of uranium, from Schist. He said research is continuing in an effort to establish industrial production of uranium from schist and slate deposits. Uranium is an element used in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

Canadian Riflemen
Win Empire Trophy

MONTREAL (CP) — A 20-man team from Quebec Province has won an Empire-wide shooting competition sponsored by the National Small Bore Rifle Association of England. It was announced Wednesday by the Canadian Small Bore Association.

The Canadian team fired a score of 3,960 out of a possible 4,000 points, outpointing their nearest rivals, Middlesex county, England, by 10 points. A Manitoba team placed 11th with 3,090 points.

Thirty-nine teams from England, Canada and Australia took part in the shoot.

It also was announced that 30-man teams representing Montreal and Winnipeg placed second and third respectively in an Empire City match, won by London with a 2,964 score. Montreal's score was 2,949 and Winnipeg's was 2,925.

TEST IN MARSEILLES?

ALTHOUGH SOME VICTORIANS MAY read specific import into the fact that rioting which has broken out in Marseilles originated from disputes over streetcar fare increases, the significant point in the disturbances in that southern France seaport centres on the call made by Communists there for a general strike. As this was being written, the appeal by the extreme left appeared to have achieved limited support. Those unions which had previously decided to down tools walked off the job. The endorsement of others appeared to await the verdict of a general trade unions conference tomorrow.

Apart from the direct division between the Communists and the de Gaulle interests represented in the Rally of the French People, the Marseilles incident may well have more than local or national repercussions. In it are the seeds of a much bigger growth. If this is the beginning of a showdown between those forces answering Kremlin dictates and those opposed to the spread of the Moscow influence, France may be facing the turmoil against which its leaders have given warning for months. A tie-up of transport facilities in this vital port is damaging enough to the country's economy and hopes of rehabilitation. An extension of the turmoil resulting from the Communists' general strike call could be infinitely worse.

Under these circumstances it is interesting to note the impressions gained by such a keen observer of the international scene as Walter Lippmann. Returning from a trip to Europe, he offered the following generalization in his column last week:

"The course of events in western Europe is demonstrating, not conclusively, perhaps, but with reasonable certainty, that highly-developed countries cannot be captured by Communist propaganda and infiltration. They do not react to hunger, inflation and the paralysis of government by turning to the Communist Party. They turn to the right, not to the left."

Should the unpleasant developments in Marseilles attain national scope, that thesis would be put to an important test.

GREAT NOVELIST PASSES

WHILE HER ADMIRERS THE WORLD over will always remember Baroness Orczy as the creator of "The Scarlet Pimpernel"—the hardy perennial of the London stage before the First Great War—many have probably forgotten that she was an artist of repute before she began writing in 1900. What a name she made for herself as one of the most talented pupils of the Heatherley School of Art is borne out by the fact that several of her productions were exhibited in the Royal Academy. After she had turned out her "Old Man in the Corner" series of detective stories for the Royal Magazine, however, it was obvious that her star in the literary firmament was destined to grow in brilliance as she finally exchanged the brush for the pen.

Baroness Orczy's death in London yesterday at the ripe age of four score years will bring back many memories to those theatregoers who either stood for hours in line for admission to pit or gallery—or arrived just before curtain-time for stalls or dress circle—to see "The Scarlet Pimpernel." Probably several hereabouts can recall that 1906 first night at the New Theatre in St. Martin's Lane, hardly the northeast entrance to Trafalgar Square, when the dramatic critics and the skeptics wondered how Fred Terry's Sir Percy Blakeney would match more experienced Julia Neilson's Lady Blakeney. But even the Daily News' lugubrious E. A. Baughan and the Daily Telegraph's exacting John T. Grein threw down their traditional reserve and hailed the performance of this husband-and-wife team as a huge success. It meant a lucrative triumph for these two artists; it opened up new fields of conquest for the brilliant author whose eyes the Grim Reaper closed yesterday.

INNER HEALTH

THE GRIM TOLL ARISING FROM THE strain of modern living is suggested in the estimate of a New York psychiatrist that while there are at present some 4,000 members of that profession in the United States, a minimum of 21,000 is needed to minister to those whose mental and emotional problems require treatment. An indication of the situation was seen in the aftermath of a syndicated columnist's advice to one reader with a nervous condition to write for help to the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. Nearly 2,000 other readers wrote, hoping for relief.

One woman said that her life had become "a hell on earth" because she could not afford the services of a psychiatrist. This, says one expert, must be the situation of millions today. Many such ailments of the mind doubtless passed unnoticed in an earlier day, or must have been classified in a different category from that of today. There have always been sick minds as well as sick bodies. But it is also true that the way of life in this modern age exacts a toll unknown to our grandfathers. The speed of living, especially in large cities, the complex worries which afflict those caught up in the competitive business world, the thousands of noises, distractions and frustrating stimuli which assault the nervous system each day subject it to stresses and strains for which it is seldom prepared.

Millions who apparently lead normal lives are beset with fears, inhibitions and nervous disorders which prevent them from living the full, contented existence which they should enjoy. Two rays of light shine into this gloomy prospect. The wide prevalence of mental and nervous problems has brought the whole situation into the open, and removed the stigma which formerly attached to treatment for such ailments. And the progress being made in the basic training of infants and children promises a great improvement in the emotional health and stability of future generations.

TWO VIEWS

WHILE THE CONTROVERSY BETWEEN the members of the Street Railwaymen's Union and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company proceeds it is interesting to contemplate the reactions of the general public to expressions of view included in the editorial columns of this and other newspapers.

For example, in our mail yesterday was a letter which read in part as follows: "Congratulations on your splendid leader in tonight's paper (Nov. 10). I agree with everything you say and hope you will hammer daily on your theme. There is one point which I think has not been sufficiently emphasized, namely, that any increase in fares due to the union's unwarranted demands will not be borne by the B.C. Electric Railway; not by the capitalists—who own their own cars—not by the business man who owns his own car, but by the working people who earn much less than the workers of the British Columbia Electric Street Railway Company."

The other comment, which the author does not sign, tells us that "rotten editorials" similar to that to which the correspondent above quoted refers, "are the ones that make Communists." Then the writer of the letter goes on to say: "I was in England when the Tories passed the no-strike law after the big strike, 1926-1927. . . . In the mines we just sat down and didn't produce. So you see, you curb a union today and it comes back stronger tomorrow." Our anonymous critic gives us some information which probably will be startling to his own tillitums; for this is the first intimation we have received that the abortive general strike in Great Britain in 1926—which public opinion defeated—continued into 1927 and 1928.

This is the type of argument with which the people of this and other communities in this country will probably be confronted until they make up their minds that those hundreds of thousands of Canadians who do not wear the insignia of trades union membership in their buttonholes still have some rights in this great and progressive western democracy.

MATTER FOR INQUIRY

ANY PUBLIC FIGURE WHO ADVOCATES a course of action calculated to strengthen the forces of democracy obviously merits a hearing. It would appear that Gen. Charles de Gaulle's advocacy of France taking the initiative in the formation of alliances with the United States, Britain and other countries "who feel themselves similarly menaced" by Communists deserves consideration on the basis of that argument. But where do we go from there? This is a proposal beyond the establishment of normal regional security co-ordination. It assumes the appearance of a straight militant alliance to widen the chasm which yawns between the so-called eastern and western blocs. Few will question the desire of the United States, Britain or Canada to halt the encroachments of communism. But could a scheme such as that suggested by Gen. de Gaulle be established without creating an agency opposed to the fundamental principle of the United Nations? And what would be the obligations in such alliances? Presentation of a parcel neatly wrapped and labeled "anti-Communist" may find a democratic public predisposed to its reception. But the course of wisdom dictates an inquiry into its contents before acceptance should be considered. Too many undesirable items can be collected under such a wrapping. Hitler was anti-Communist, too.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

THERE IS NOTHING VERY ENLIGHTENING in the calm statement of a contemporary that "the day is coming when governments in Canada will wake up to the fact that there are far more votes in the hands of the general public than those in industry or under the domination of labor racketeers." None, of course, will quarrel with the foregoing truism. But we wonder what the drift of the argument is when we read that "if governments are not for the protection of all the people in such times," meaning the conditions which the striking transit workers have imposed upon the public, "what are they for?" Then again we read: "When it comes to the final word, it is the public which votes and stacks its ballots in the highest pile of all."

Pontifical platitudes, to use an ancient metaphor, butter no parsnips. Governments at this interesting and difficult period in the history of human progress would be glad to learn the precise method by which they could anticipate events. That time evidently is a long way in the offing.

Walter Lippmann

GERMANY UNDER GROUND—II.

BUT EVEN MORE important in the long run—because it bears directly on what Senator Vandenberg and Mr. Byrnes are saying about a separate peace with western Germany—is the political attitude of the German party leaders. I did not see Dr. Kurt Schumacher, the chairman of the Social Democratic Party and the leading candidate for Prime Minister of the new western German state we hear so much about. He was in the United States on a visit which was facilitated by the State Department—a visit which seems to have inspired him, according to Mr. Delbert Clark, of the New York Times, to reverse everything he has been saying about German unity and to become the advocate of a partitioned Germany. But though I missed seeing Dr. Schumacher, I saw several of his more important colleagues both in politics and in the trade unions. And I have no hesitation in saying that if Dr. Schumacher is now for a separate western German state and a separate peace, he has either decided that a bird in the hand—which is to be Premier under Allied occupation—is worth two in the bush, or he is taking the U.S. for a ride.

FOR IF THERE is anything that is certain in this world it is that no German politician, who hopes to have a following among the broad masses, will ever, or can ever, accept the partition of Germany. Not merely the economic unification of the four zones, which has been sought, but the restoration of the political unity of the Reich and the restoration of its territorial boundaries, is, as it inevitably must be, the aim of all German national parties. On this point there is no discernible difference of view from the Communist left to the extreme right. The only genuine exceptions are those few in Bavaria and the Rhineland who are the heirs of an old separatist tradition. That is why the most effective theme of German Communist propaganda is "German unity," with the reminder that only by a deal with the Russians can the unity of Germany, as Germans mean it, be restored. For that reason among others I hope we shall not make the mistake of setting up a German government in the British-American zones and of making a separate peace with it, and of giving it sovereignty. I am not talking about merging the zones for military government and of giving the Germans a greater degree of responsibility. I am talking of a separate peace with a western German state, which so many in London and in Washington propose if no agreement is reached at the next meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

FOR THE RESULT of that can only be that the western German state will then have to negotiate that treaty of peace with eastern Germany, with Russia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Yugoslavia which the western democracies find unable to negotiate. If, as Senator Vandenberg suggests, the Council of Foreign Ministers is adjourned sine die after a deadlock at the November meeting, this will mean that the places now occupied by Mr. Marshall and Mr. Bevin will be taken by Dr. Schumacher, or Herr Jakob Kaiser, or the Christian Democrats, or whoever it is who becomes the chief of the western German state. The negotiations between the western Germans and the eastern Germans and with the Soviet orbit may at first be secret. But that there will be negotiation is unavoidable.

The Germans of the western state must negotiate for political reasons. Consider, for example, the mere name of the proposed German state. Is it to be called "Germany" or is it to be called "Western Germany"? Any name given it will be a standing reminder and invitation to come to terms with the east. Consider also Berlin. If the western powers evacuate it, they will have surrendered to Russia the ace of trumps—namely the power to restore to Germany its ruined but none the less historical capital. And if they try to stay, what will they be staying in Berlin for, since quadripartite military government no longer exists even in theory?

THE WESTERN GERMANS must also negotiate for economic reasons since so much of German trade flows to the east. The Marshall Plan is not, as so many suppose, a plan for making western Europe and western Germany self-supporting after a rupture with the east. Contrary to what appears to be the popular impression, the plan cannot succeed, and western Europe must therefore be subsidized indefinitely, unless trade between eastern and western Europe is restored by 1951 to very near the prewar normal.

Therefore, I contend that whatever else the western powers do or cannot do at the next meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers, the one thing they should not do is to make a final break followed by a separate peace. The present stalemate, bad and expensive as it is, would not be so bad and so expensive as that.

FOR THOUGH THE WEST is losing control of the internal life of Germany, it does at least still control the external relations of western Germany. Russia, the eastern countries and eastern Germany must still deal with the democracies in settling the international status of Germany. But if the west makes a separate peace with western Germany, it shall lose sight of and control over the settlement of the German question. The negotiation will disappear underground, and neither Germans nor Russians will need to consider the views or interests of the democracies. Copyright, 1947, New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Modern King Solomon

As Our Vancouver Friend Sees Us

By ROY W. BROWN, Editorial Director, Vancouver Sun

IT IS DOUBTFUL if the people of Vancouver Island realize what is in store for them. The whole of 1948 may be regarded as another year of preparation—but after that there will be a decade that will belong peculiarly to Vancouver Island. A period of great physical development, an industrial expansion that will surprise the staid but awakening city of Victoria, a tourist invasion that will surpass anything yet seen in any part of Canada.

It is easy to generalize—So I shall get down to a few concrete reasons for certain optimism.

1. Nineteen forty-nine will usher in an entire new era in transportation.
2. In the same year, cheap power will "cover" the island, from Campbell River to Victoria.
3. Beginning in 1949, improved methods of logging and timber products utilization, as visualized by the Sloan forestry report, will be taking hold of the entire industry and a new wood-pulp production era will assume real significance in the provincial economy.
4. The community of Victoria is already beginning to experience "growing pains" of a very encouraging nature. That old city may expand its boundaries to include one or more of the municipalities on Saanich Peninsula; and certainly it will inaugurate a water distribution plan far in advance of anything considered possible hitherto.

The task of finding a solution to the involved problems facing the greater community on the southeast corner of the island will occupy several years of intense development. In the end it will affect the economic future of the entire island.

As to transportation, the main highways, Victoria to Alberni and Campbell River, should be in first-class shape by next midsummer. Following that, work will begin in earnest on extension of much-needed lateral roads that will bring new scenic attractions within reach of the motorist.

ECONOMIC FUTURE

By 1949, transportation between island and mainland likewise will be much easier. New vessels will be available for the Vancouver-Nanaimo ferry service. This will be made possible by the Canadian Pacific's placing two new 23-knot ships for the Alaska run in summer and the triangular golf service in winter. Their coming will release ships for the Nanaimo run. In addition, it is expected a new ship designed to carry 150 autos, as compared with the maximum of 70 now carried on any one ship, will be ready in 1949 for the Nanaimo run. By then it should be possible to drive an auto aboard a Nanaimo ferry at almost any hour; as eight to 10 "daily" trips will be possible when the new land-sea transport pier is finished at Nanaimo.

For those who do not have autos, busses and diesel-powered trains of the E. & N. Railway will be available at the same pier. Nanaimo will become the traffic distribution centre for the whole island.

Whether Greater Victoria becomes a factor of real importance in the development of the island depends upon decisions which must be made in the next few months.

Involved is the future of the water supply of the entire Greater Victoria area. For years Victoria city has been enlarging its water system to accommodate the growing suburbs around it. Now it is suggested that the city enlarge its limits to take in Oak Bay and a thickly populated section of Saanich. Alternatively, there is a proposal to set up a Greater Victoria Water Board, planned to serve an area five or six times the extent of the present city.

Dr. E. A. Cleveland, commissioner of the Greater Vancouver Water District, has been advising the councils of Victoria and its neighbor municipalities on the problem.

Future development of water supply for the beautiful Saanich peninsula, where water is now scarce, is essential. It is no exaggeration to say that a broad and successful solution of the water problem for the entire area from Sidney and Patricia Bay, south to Sooke, will give a tremendous fillip to the expansion of the city and its suburbs.

Recovery, Relief Or Rat-Hole?

By PETER EDSON from Washington

WARNINGS pile up that the E.R.P., or European Recovery Plan, is headed for a rough reception when Congress convenes Nov. 17. Senator Taft's critical comments are just an advance sample.

Much of the opposition will be based on what are now considered to be the completely unreasonable expectations of the 16 European countries. Their demands are presented to American officials in terms about like these:

The U.S. has three courses it can follow in helping western Europe get back on its feet.

First, the U.S. can support Europe with a four-year plan for full recovery. By 1952, the U.S. will then have a working European economy with which it can do business. Both Europe and America stand to profit from this trade recovery.

Second, the U.S. can cut back on this program and deal with war-torn Europe on a relief basis only. That would mean furnishing merely the food and fuel necessary to keep Europeans alive. Their economic salvation would be up to them. The inference here is that it would take much longer than four years for Europe to recover.

MIGHT COLLAPSE

The third choice is for the U.S. to do nothing, taking the position that this country cannot afford to aid in European recovery without jeopardizing the American economy. In that case, Europe goes down the rat-hole. Exactly what will happen if Europe is allowed to indulge in "Operation Rat-Hole," is not specified. It is left to the imagination, which always magnifies horrible details. The European experts may not know the answer themselves, in the same sense that they don't know how accurate are their estimates of need in the Paris Report on Economic Co-operation. They're just guessing.

But their fear is that many European governments could not survive. Their only chance would be to reduce their standard of living to 1,200 calories a day and hang on by the skin of their intestines.

USE OF STEEL

In this situation they feel they would be easy pickings for the Communists. In their undernourished condition, the western Europeans envision the Soviet government moving in with enough food to save off starvation, even if the necessary relief supplies would have to be taken away from the Russian people.

Having reduced the situation to this extremity, the European experts go back to what it will take to bring about full recovery. Aside from the two principal relief requirements of wheat and coal, emphasis is put on three items—steel, shipping, and the purchase of supplies from other countries, principally Latin America. The Europeans want the U.S. to finance all three.

The U.S. hasn't any too much steel for its own needs today, but the Europeans want the U.S. to restrict its own consumption, and its normal exports to other parts of the world, in order to make up Europe's deficit need of nearly 3,000,000 tons a year for the next four years.

Some of this steel would go to European shipyards to build up their merchant marine. All European trading nations want to get back their world shipping business. They figure it will take four years to rebuild their fleets. In the meantime they want the U.S. to haul some 70,000,000 tons of their relief supplies and pay the $1.7 billion freight bill.

The fact that the U.S. now has some 1,200 surplus Liberty and Victory ships, which it would gladly sell cheap, is ignored.

Europeans don't want them. They want new ships of their own building to compete with the American merchant marine. And they want the U.S. to furnish much of the steel to help build up that competition.

That, however, is peanuts when compared with the "aid from the rest of the American continent," which it is expected the U.S. will pay for. The U.S. share of the four-year E.R.P. is now put at $20.4 billion, scaling down from $6 billion in 1948 to $4.3 billion in 1951. Aid from the rest of the American continent totals $14.8 billion for the four years.

This is the bale of straw that will probably break the elephant's and the donkey's backs when the E.R.P. gets before Congress.

The proof of a young wife's love is when her husband, in her absence, buys some new furniture or rugs, and she cries: "How perfectly lovely!"

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

GEN. CHARLES DE GAULLE'S call to his native France to take the lead in making alliances with the United States, Britain and other countries "who feel themselves similarly menaced" by communism, is likely to be received with mixed emotions among the western democracies.

One would expect the first reaction to be one of gratification that this powerful personality should be throwing his reborn political leadership into the battle to help stem the Red tide's rise against western Europe. The other democracies certainly need the all-out support of France, and De Gaulle won a smashing victory in the recent elections although he has no position in the government.

However, this first reaction most certainly is bound to be followed in many circles by anxious questions. For one thing, some of De Gaulle's opponents in France charge that he has dictatorial ambitions, and there has been some uneasiness over this in the chancelleries of allied capitals.

SLIM HOPES

But there is another consideration which is of more immediate concern. De Gaulle's proposal comes almost on the eve of the Big Four Foreign Ministers' conference in London to try to draw up a German peace treaty. Hope of reconciling the differences between Russia on the one hand and the American-British-French trio on the other are slim as it is, and were De Gaulle's proposal for alliances against communism accepted forthwith, it would preclude all hope of an agreement in the London conference. Then the fat would be in the fire.

So I believe the democracies will regard the general's idea as premature, to say the least. And one would expect them to continue so to regard it so long as there remains any hope for agreement with Russia over Germany. The consequences of a complete break between the Soviet Union and the democracies would be grave in the extreme.

While things look gloomy for the Foreign Ministers' conference, which is scheduled for the 25th of this month, it can't be written off this far in advance. It may be that it will concern itself mainly with Austria—that Russia may still to see how the Marshall program works out. There is always a possibility that if the conference were only a partial failure, there might be another. Diplomatic circles in some western capitals believe that Russia is likely to try to prevent a complete rupture.

REALISTIC ALLIANCE

Then, too, Britain and France surely couldn't contemplate breaking with Russia before even knowing whether the Marshall plan will be approved by the United States Congress. If the plan does go through it will in effect be an alliance among the countries of western Europe to combat communism. And it will be more realistic than any alliance in the military sense.

All these points would be bound to come up for consideration—or so it strikes me—if De Gaulle should in due course be in position to formalize his proposal. One would think, however, that, as previously indicated, the other western democracies would be inclined at this juncture to take the position that the idea is premature, rather than that it is without merit.

NATURALIZATION

Your Health Magazine After placing an order for a Swiss cheese sandwich the customer changes his mind. "Could you change my order to an American cheese sandwich?" he asked.

"Naturalize the Swiss," called the counterman to the cook.

SOUR GRAPES

Windsor Star

So rapid is the movement of people from other parts of Canada to British Columbia, that province does not seek immigrants from elsewhere. Perhaps west coast residents should commence bragging about the heavy rains and fogs, instead of always trying to tell us about the warm sunny climate out there.

UNDULY SENSITIVE

Edmonton Bulletin Mr. St. Laurent says that the creation of a bureaucracy to allot subsidy-built houses would be to invite corruption and would involve a play for votes.

The minister is unduly sensitive about votes. It is the business of government first and foremost to promote the welfare of the people it governs, votes or no votes. And surely the provision of houses at rentals people can afford to pay is one of the cardinal functions of good government.

Fine Exhibition
Of Water Colors
To Be Shown Here

A collection of 100 water colors painted by the late Col. L. G. Fawkes, Mayne Island, and now owned by John Borradaile, 1196 Esquimalt Road, will be on display at Prince Robert House from Nov. 20 to Nov. 26, except Sunday, between the hours of 2 and 5 in the afternoon.

Before coming to the B.C. Coast, the colonel and Lady Constance Fawkes lived in Bedhampton, Hampshire, where Col. Fawkes was vice-president of the Hampshire and Isle of Wight Amateur Art Society. Recognized as an outstanding portrait painter, Col. Fawkes has two portraits hung in the Royal Portrait Gallery in London, England.

He painted pictures of the late King George V and his eldest brother, the Duke of Clarence, and also one of the Emperor of Germany. Pictures of Earl Roberts and the Duke of Connaught, bearing their signatures, will be shown at the exhibition. Other pictures include those of Sir Harry Kepple and Lord Goshen, both good friends of King Edward VII. There is also a fine portrait of W. L. Wyllie, R.A., the world-renowned marine painter of Portsmouth, England.

Among some of Col. Fawkes' finest paintings are four copies from the famous landscape artist, J. M. W. Turner, who had Col. Fawkes' grandfather as one of his principle patrons. At Farnley Hall, Yorkshire, the home of the Fawkes since the 12th century, Turner executed a great deal of his work. The Fawkes family owned the largest private collection of Turners in the world.

The collection of Col. Fawkes' work includes 400 water colors from which the 100 have been chosen for display. Proceeds from the exhibition will go to the aid of the Navy League.

Chamber President
Stresses Need For Island Development

"If we don't populate this island, someone else will and we will not be given very much say in government," H. Cuthbert Holmes, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday in an address to the Real Estate Board of Victoria.

"Our freedom depends upon populating this area by ourselves," he said.

In pressing for immediate development, the speaker pointed out that Vancouver Island is the same size as certain European countries which are looked upon as "world powers."

He noted that Switzerland is a country with very few natural resources but which supports a population of four and one-third millions by making high quality products from imported raw materials. He pointed out that the island is far richer than Switzerland in natural resources; having forests, farm land and fishing. "Yet we have one person where Switzerland has 13."

Mr. Holmes suggested the best way to develop the island would be to undertake a planned program of road building. "Without roads there can be no life—that is fundamental," he said.

He noted that the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island were now studying a plan for the establishment of loop roads and were intending to bring forth recommendations to the provincial government for a definite road-building program. He asked the Real Estate Board to endorse the action of the A.B.T.V.I.

Mr. Holmes also requested the realtors to give study to real estate taxation. "My own view is that while we tax capital rather than income, the general housing situation will remain bad," he said.

Scottish Reunion
Tickets Available

Present and former members of the Canadian Scottish Regiment are advised that they only have until next Tuesday night to pick up tickets for the annual reunion dinner to be held by the Regimental Association in the Kit Kat Banquet Hall on the evening of Nov. 22.

Whether former wearers of the regiment's colors have joined the regimental family association or not, they are invited to attend the annual get-together. Tickets are available from Brig. J. M. Rockingham, association president, and secretary H. P. Bell. Final details for the reunion will be made at the monthly meeting of the association tomorrow night at 8 in Bay Street Armory.

Recommends Transit Board Be Formed

In a report submitted to the City Council, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the transportation committee, recommended creation of a Greater Victoria transportation board to govern public transportation service, traffic and highway planning. He suggested that the municipalities of Greater Victoria seek legislation from the provincial government to set up such a board, pointing out that such a move had received the endorsement of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Harrison Hot Springs this fall.

H.B.C. Chief Denies Head Office Being Moved To Montreal

LONDON (CP)—Sir Ashley Cooper, governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, said Wednesday at a press conference that there is a rumor circulating in Canada and Britain that the company is proposing to remove its London business and head office to Montreal and declared that "this report is without foundation." "It apparently is based on the fact we recently purchased a building site in Montreal where we plan to erect a building required for our fur trading operations."

Simultaneously Sir Ashley announced the Hudson's Bay Company's wedding present to Princess Elizabeth is a beaver coat, but declined to elaborate. Looking fit and strong after a Canadian tour which reached as far west as Winnipeg, Sir Ashley said "Canadians have not forgotten the fight Britain put up in the earlier part of the war against overwhelming odds."

"Apart from the friendly desire to help Britain it is a matter of great self-interest to Canada that Britain should be a solvent trading nation. This is especially so in the prairie provinces, where we have bought wheat and other food supplies, and in British Columbia, where we have been buyers of timber and fish."

Sir Ashley said that financial restrictions—especially regarding United States dollars—which Britain has had to impose "have created a big problem for Canada."

"Canada finds herself with a heavy deficit in American dollars which she is no longer able to settle on a multi-lateral basis," he said. "The government is actively studying ways and means of dealing with the matter. While these have not been published it seems likely they will have to be of a fairly far-reaching nature."

10 Island Exhibits Going To Toronto

The provincial agriculture department today reported that 10 crop exhibits would be sent by Vancouver Island farmers to the Toronto Royal Winter Fair to be held Nov. 18 to 26. The department said that it had been informed of 22 crop exhibits being sent from the province. It is believed a number of livestock exhibits will also be sent.

The Island exhibitors are: L. Bond, Hornby Island, red clover; F. Barnes, Victoria, beets; Don Wilson, Ladysmith, two varieties of potatoes; Bert Young, Kokilah, wheat, oats and two varieties of barley; E. Smith, Courtenay, potatoes, and P.E.B. Farms, Wellington, potatoes.

Hindu Acquitted On Charge Of Assaulting Wife

Pergosh Singh Sangha, Hindu truck driver who faced a charge of common assault as well as a charge of intending to unlawfully imprison his 18-year-old wife, Kishen Kour, was acquitted by an Assize Court jury late yesterday. Ronald Eisard, also of Vancouver, who was charged with the same two accounts, was also found not guilty.

At the trial Pergosh Singh testified that he came to Victoria along with Eisard to see his wife, whom he had secretly married several months earlier in the United States without the consent of her parents. They located the girl on Market Street on the morning of June 5, pulled her into an automobile and took her to Hillcrest, near Duncan, where the accused's father and brother worked.

The Crown's contention that the girl was forcibly made to enter the car against her wishes was denied by the defence which claimed the scene was staged by the girl because she feared repercussions from her relatives who were against her marriage with Sangha.

According to the evidence at the trial, the girl's relatives had strongly objected to the marriage, which had taken place before a Justice of Peace and had not been carried out in accordance with Hindu religion.

Banker Warns Canada Alone Cannot Solve Dollar Shortage

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's dollar problem, as it relates to the United States, "cannot be resolved entirely through our own efforts," B. C. Gardner, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, today told the association's annual meeting here.

"What hope there is of a permanent solution depends largely on the extent to which the productive facilities of this entire continent are intelligently shared in helping war-torn areas of the world to meet their own responsibility for rehabilitation and recovery," he said.

"If the Marshall Plan can be made effective it is reasonable to hope that the United States would be a larger buyer, either directly or indirectly, of Canadian products and that this would bring about results not dissimilar to those which followed the wartime Hyde Park agreement, thus maintaining our ability to purchase from the United States those goods such as machinery, coal, cotton and oil which are so essential to our economy, and which are not under present circumstances readily available elsewhere."

Of banking in Canada, Mr. Gardner said he knew of few businesses that could assert that, in the face of steeply-increased costs, charges for the final product or service had not been raised. If the upward trend of costs continued, at least some of the charges would inevitably have to come under review.

He warned against excessive inventory accumulations and expressed the hope that tax rates would continue downward.

LOANS AND ASSETS

To demonstrate the adaptability of the Canadian chartered banks, Mr. Gardner showed that commercial loans had increased 45 per cent in the past year and 36 per cent since the end of the war. As a result of this upward trend in lending, there had been a marked shift in distribution of bank assets. In August, 1939, total loans of the Canadian banks were equivalent to 34 per cent of all assets. Six years later, at the end of the war, the figure was 21 per cent. At Aug. 31, 1947, loans were equivalent to 28 per cent of total assets.

In contrast, total holdings of Dominion and provincial government securities were 34 per cent of assets in 1939. As a result of war financing, this proportion became 52 per cent in August, 1945, and had receded to 43 per cent at Aug. 31, 1947.

"This partial realignment of the two major elements in the banking structure is welcome indeed," Mr. Gardner continued, "and demonstrates conclusively the resiliency of the banking system. A continuation of the trend is most desirable."

Dominion's Labor Minister To Stay

THEY SHARED ONE ROOM, ATE ACORNS—Mrs. D. H. Klonis, 29, wife of a hospitalized veteran, shared a one-room shack outside Birmingham, Ala., with her five children and her four brothers and sisters (above) and her father. Women's Round Table Hears Merits Of Credit Unions

"The need for credit and the extortions of the money lender have been the cause of untold misery throughout the ages," Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, organizer and treasurer of Victoria Chapter of Credit Unions, told members of the Women's Round Table, meeting in the City Hall Wednesday evening.

Mrs. O'Brien traced the growth of the movement from its earliest inception in Germany in 1844 to its present widespread development throughout the world.

North America today has over 12,000 credit unions, she said. Europe has 60,000 and in China, Japan, New Zealand, the Philippines, Egypt, the Argentine and the British Isles, credit unions operate successfully.

"It is a democratic movement," she said, "aimed at teaching the people to save."

Speaking of the movement in British Columbia, Mrs. O'Brien explained that since December, 1938, when the Credit Unions Act was passed, 155 credit unions have been organized with approximately 25,000 members and assets totaling three and a half million dollars.

Mrs. A. P. Rayment was discussion leader and a film, "The Maplewood Story," depicting the service of the bank in a community was shown.

Volunteer Workers Meet At New Lodge

A group of volunteer workers who will assist in the new Red Cross Lodge to be opened Saturday afternoon in the grounds at the D.V.A. Hospital, were entertained informally at the Lodge Wednesday evening, where they were taken on a tour of inspection and assigned to their various duties.

Annual Party For The Blind Held At Government House

The 19th annual reception for members of the Victoria Branch, Canadian National Institute for the Blind was held at Government House, Wednesday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock.

Guests were received in the drawingroom by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Banks and ushered into the ballroom, where afternoon tea was served.

The tables, decorated with bowls of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums, stretched the full length of the spacious room.

Special guests, seated with His Honor and Mrs. Banks, were Mrs. John Hart, Mayor Percy E. George and Mrs. George, Capt. M. C. Robinson, M.B.E., national director, Canadian Institute for the Blind, and Mrs. Robinson.

A program, arranged by Mrs. T. Rickard, including a tenor solo by Dr. B. Manning accompanied by Miss Ethel James; duets by Miss Joyce Thompson and Miss Margaret Husband, also accompanied by Miss James; recitative and aria from the "Bride Ship" by Miss Louise Martin; a duet from the same opera with Mme. Lugrin Fahey and Miss Martin, and a specialty singing number in costume by Frank Brown.

Following the tea hour, Capt. Robinson spoke briefly and Mrs. Rickard spoke the thanks of the gathering to the host and hostess to which His Honor replied.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Victoria Branch of the Institute, who assisted in bringing blind citizens and their escorts to Government House and taking them safely home again were Mrs. C. F. Armstrong, Mrs. J. McDonald, Mrs. W. F. Bullen, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. R. H. Palmer, Mrs. A. W. Jones, Mrs. Weldon, Miss Inis Bodwell and Miss Ruth Jones.

Report Says Wedding Gown Of Satin, Crystals, Pearls

LONDON (AP) — Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown is of classically cut slipper satin "lavishly embroidered" with crystals and pearls, the Evening Standard said yesterday.

Buckingham Palace declined comment. At the Princess' demand, all the reporters, photographers and fashion sketchers who have been let in on the secret have had to sign double oaths to keep silent until the wedding day.

The Standard, however, publicly refused to accept the information under those conditions and said it would publish a description of the gown as soon as it learned authentic facts through other channels.

The gown has a "sweetheart" neckline, the Standard said, with "long tight sleeves, and fitted bodice and waist, billowing out into an extremely full skirt which trails on the ground at the back."

"Bands of flowers are embroidered on the skirt in crystals, pearl, thread and tulle."

"Bodice, pointed waistline and cuffs are outlined in similar embroidery."

"A fan-shaped train of white silk tulle, five yards long, descends from the shoulders. Flowers and wheat in pearls, crystals and thread, similar to the dress embroidery, are also worked on the train."

The Standard's account said the Princess will wear a white tulle veil clipped in place with a tiara of pearls and diamonds.

Garter Order Conferred

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham Palace announced yesterday that the King has made Princess Elizabeth a Lady of the Ancient Order of the Garter.

Princess Elizabeth joins the Queen, Queen Mother Mary and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands in the order with its insignia of kingfisher blue ribbon, diamond star and motto "Honi soit qui mal y pense"—"Evil be to him who evil thinks."

Knights of the order wear a jeweled garter insignia about the left leg, but ladies make a bracelet of it and wear it about the left wrist.

Election of Officers—At a meeting of Centennial Women's Missionary Society, with Mrs. J. W. Alton presiding, it was decided to hold election and installation of officers in December instead of January. Mrs. Alton led the prayer service preceding the meeting. Mrs. W. Bennett and Mrs. G. Wilkinson reviewed chapters of the study book "Great Was the Company." Mrs. A. Butler gave a report on Christian stewardship; Mrs. J. Cox, community friendship; and Mrs. W. Gibb, literature. Mrs. W. R. Ashford reported an increase in C.G. L.T. membership and advised the appointment of a Mission Band leader. Mrs. E. Bonfou, convener of Christian citizenship committee, read "A Challenge to Canadians," by Major Vincent Price, K.C., from the "United Nations News."

Testing Candy

To make cold water test, remove pan of syrup from heat. Pour small amount of syrup from spoon into cup of cold water, not ice water. The hardness of the ball formed indicates the temperature of candy.

A candy thermometer gives more accurate results. Test with thermometer while candy is cooking; have eye on level with part of scale being read.

To check accuracy of candy thermometer, let stand 10 minutes in boiling water. Thermometer should read 212°F. If there is any variation, subtract or add to make the same degree of allowance in testing candy.

Thread—230°F to 234°F.
Soft ball—234°F to 238°F.
Firm ball—244°F to 248°F.
Hard ball—248°F to 254°F.
Very hard ball—254°F to 265°F.
Light crack—270°F to 285°F.
Hard crack—290°F to 300°F.

Good Vittles—Meat loaf with tomato sauce is pretty good on a cold and cheerless day. Secure some hard-cooked eggs in the centre of the loaf before baking. Then, when it's sliced, a slice of egg will show up like a rabbit out of a hat.

Home-Made Confections Back On Festive Holiday Menus

Candy-making is the festive phase of cooking—and this year, with sugar back in circulation, there is no doubt candy will hold a prominent place in all holiday menu planning. Parcels packed for overseas relatives and friends will have a special corner reserved for home-made sweets and confections, Christmas stockings will again have sweet-tooth goodies tucked in the toes.

All this sounds good on paper, but many housewives, during the hectic war years, lost their favorite candy recipes and are finding it difficult to replace them.

Here are a few tried-and-true favorites to give them a running start:

Maple Cream

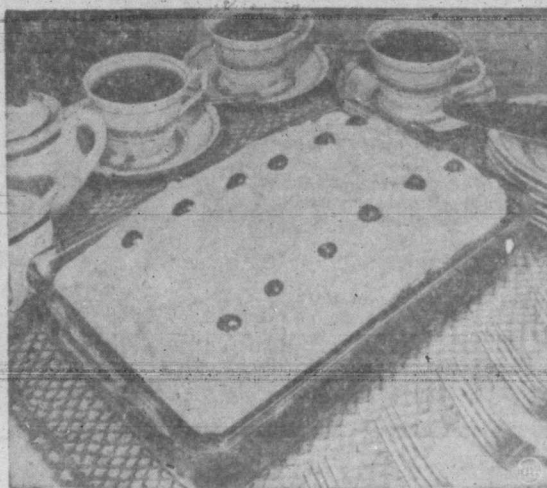

One-half cup sweetened condensed milk, ½ cup water, 1 cup granulated sugar, ¼ cup maple syrup, 1 tsp. butter, ¼ cup pecan meats, small pieces, ½ tsp. vanilla.

Blend milk, water, sugar and syrup, dissolve thoroughly, heat slowly to boiling point, cook slowly to soft ball stage when tested in cold water. Remove from fire, drop in butter and flavoring, do not stir. When lukewarm beat until creamy. Add nuts and spread in buttered pan.

Butterscotch

Three cups brown sugar, ¼ tsp. salt, 2 tbsps. corn syrup, 1 tsp. vanilla or other flavoring, 4 tps.

Cranberries For Gala Cake

Cranberry spice cake for de luxe entertaining.

Here's a party cake special that uses cranberries for glory.

CRANBERRY SPICE CAKE

One-half cup shortening, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup corn syrup, 2 eggs, well-beaten, 2 cups cake flour, sifted, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup nut meats, 1 cup cranberry sauce, ¼ cup of whole cranberry sauce for decorating.

Cream shortening, add sugar and corn syrup. Beat until light; add beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together. Add nut meats to the dry ingredients and combine alternately with one cup cranberry sauce to the egg mixture. Pour the cake batter into a well-greased 2-quart, heat resistant glass utility dish. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about 45 minutes. Top with cranberry icing and decorate with about ¼ cup of the most perfect berries from the cranberry sauce. (12 servings.)

CRANBERRY ICING

Three-quarters cup sugar, ¼ cup light corn syrup, ½ cup cranberry sauce, 2 egg whites.

Boil together sugar, corn syrup and cranberry sauce over direct heat. Cook until the syrup forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water, or until the syrup reaches the temperature, 238 degrees F. Beat the egg whites in a heat-resistant bowl until they hold their shape. Pour the hot syrup slowly into the whipped egg whites, beating constantly. If a deeper color is desired, add a few drops of pink vegetable coloring. Continue beating until the icing holds its shape. Spread on top of the cake.

Heavenly Bliss

Two cups white sugar, ½ cup boiling water, ½ cup corn syrup, ½ cup chopped nuts, whites of 2 eggs, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Boil together the sugar, water and syrup until the mixture becomes crisp when dropped into cold water. Beat up whites of eggs stiff. Then add vanilla extract and nuts. Pour syrup over all and beat until stiff. Turn into a bread pan and when cold cut into squares.

Panocha

Two cups brown sugar, 1/3 cup milk or cream, 1 tsp. butter, ¼ cup chopped nuts, 1 tsp. vanilla extract.

Put sugar, milk and butter into saucepan. Boil with a little stirring as possible until it makes a soft ball when tested in cold water. Take from fire; add nuts, raisins and vanilla; when cold beat until thick and pour into greased pans.

Divinity Fudge

Three and a half cups granulated sugar, ½ cup corn syrup, ½ cup water, 2 egg whites, 1½ cups chopped nuts or candied cherries, if preferred, 1 tsp. vanilla, ¼ tsp. salt. Method: Cook the sugar, corn syrup, water and salt to soft ball stage (238°F.). Take out ½ cup of this syrup and cook the remainder to the hard ball or brittle stage—(cold water test). Stiffly beat the two egg whites and then gradually pour over them the first half cup of syrup, beating constantly. Then add the remaining syrup slowly and continue beating until mixture will almost hold its shape. Stir in nut meats (or cherries) and flavoring. Pour into a buttered pan and spread lightly into place. When cool cut in squares with knife, dipped in hot water and then dried.

Walnut Nougat

2 cups sugar, ½ cup white Karo syrup, 2 egg whites, ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup walnuts.

To stiffly beaten egg whites add half of syrup, pouring slowly and beating constantly. Boil sugar, water and remaining syrup until mixture forms a soft ball when tested. Add slowly to first mixture, beating constantly until mixture begins to keep its shape. Add vanilla and walnuts. Turn into buttered pan and cut when cold.

Cherry Balls

½ pound glazed cherries, ½ pound unblanched almonds. Put through mincer, add ½ cup coconut and one egg. Shape into balls and roll in granulated sugar.

Velvet Fudge

3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup milk, and 1 cup walnuts. Mix sugar, cocoa and milk, add melted butter. Cook without stirring until mixture forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from stove, add vanilla and set aside until cold. When cold beat well until mixture begins to keep its shape, then add walnuts. Work in hands until smooth.

Apple Dumplings

Two cups flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons shortening, ¾ cup milk (approximately), 6 apples, sugar and cinnamon.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening. Add milk to make a soft biscuit dough. Roll to ¼-inch thickness. Cut dough in six squares. Place cored and pared apples in centre of each. Fill cavity of each apple with mixture of sugar and cinnamon. Draw dough up around apple. Pierce dough with fork. Place dumplings in buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 F.), until apples are tender—about 40 minutes. Serve with cream and sugar or hot caramel sauce, 6 servings.

Canada Bans Import Of Rye From U.S. At Washington Request

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government, acting at the request of the U.S. government, has taken steps to ban the importation of rye from the United States into Canada until further notice, it was learned authoritatively.

The prohibition, aimed at plugging leaks in the U.S. food conservation program, is embodied in an order-in-council just passed by the cabinet and will bring to a halt a flow of this cereal grain into western Canada which was said to have reached substantial proportions.

The preamble to the order, to be made public shortly, refers directly to this flow with the statement that "uncontrolled" shipments of rye out of the United States "disturbs" measures being taken by that government to conserve cereals and cereals products and provide more food for starving European countries.

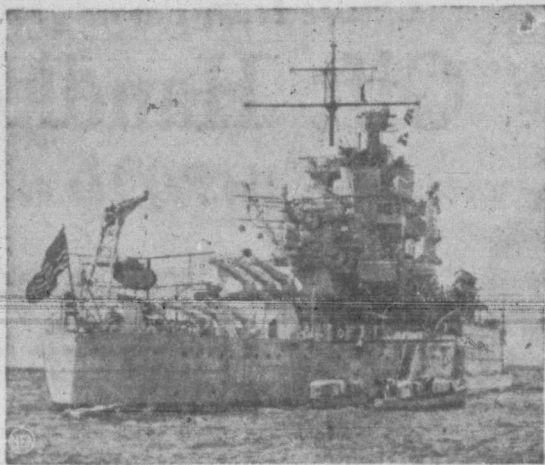

It is understood the order resulted directly from shipments which were being made to elevator companies by U.S. citizens seeking to take advantage of high prices for rye prevailing on that market as against those offered at Minneapolis and other U.S. grain marketing points.

A request for prohibition was made by the U.S. government through Hume Wrong, Canadian Ambassador at Washington, and the Canadian government, acting under wartime powers still existing in the Imports and Exports Act, took restrictive action.

Ship Temporarily Lost At Sea While On Trip To Final 'Battle'

Ex-U.S. battleship New Mexico.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The decommissioned battleship New Mexico, temporarily lost at sea while en route to her last "battle," was found today by a United States Coast Guard search plane and tugs were directed to her side.

Exact location of the vessel was not immediately known, the Coast Guard said. The 30,000-ton super dreadnaught was en route from Boston to her final "battle" with two tiny fireboats attempting to keep her from the port of Newark when she was cut adrift in heavy seas late Wednesday.

NOT SIGHTED AGAIN

Skippers of the two tugs which cut her loose reported earlier today to the Coast Guard that they were unable to relocate the big ship.

The New Mexico is owned by Lipsett Inc., a New York salvage firm which purchased her for scrapping purposes and also leased part of the Newark navy base for the dismantling job.

The municipal fireboats took up positions at the mouth of Port Newark channel leading to the salvage dock where the 30,000-ton dreadnaught is scheduled to be scrapped.

City officials, who say they want no more ships junked on the Newark waterfront, ordered the fireboat fleet to block the bay and called for reinforcements from neighboring New York City as the big retired battleship approached the harbor.

"H" hour was set for some time today, but Mayor Vincent J. Murphy said some agreement to stave off the pending "battle" was in sight as the result of his two-hour conference Wednesday with Navy Under-Secretary Kenney.

"But," the mayor said sternly, "the entrance to the port of Newark will continue to be blockaded by our fireboat navy until the agreement is signed, sealed and delivered."

SLUR ON STATE

Despite possibility of a Washington truce, however, some new complications were reported brewing at Santa Fe, the New Mexico state capital. The local chamber of commerce there said it plans to protest Newark's "slur" in refusing admittance to the one-time battleship bearing that state's name.

City officials, who previously had requested the navy to give up its wartime base at Port Newark in order to permit a $70,000,000 expansion program to get under way, called out their fireboat fleet Tuesday after learning the New Mexico was en route here for scrapping.

Plane Crash-Lands, Pilot Slightly Hurt

LONDON (AP)—British-South American Airways announced today that its four-engined airliner Starlight had made a crash landing in Bermuda this morning after developing engine trouble on a flight from Santiago, Chile, to London.

Cmdr. A. C. Graham received facial injuries, but there were no other casualties, the announcement said. It did not specify how many were aboard the plane.

The Starlight is a converted Lancaster bomber. In January, 1946, the same plane made a 14,000-mile survey flight to Buenos Aires and return in preparation for inauguration of Britain's South American service.

On that flight the plane set a record of 32 hours and 20 minutes from London to Buenos Aires, including stops at Lisbon and Natal, Brazil.

Death In Jail Studied

VANCOUVER (CP)—Investigation was underway at the city jail today into circumstances surrounding the death of William Ramage, 55, arrested on a drunk charge. He was taken to hospital in an unconscious condition when jailer T. G. Irwin was unable to wake him nine hours after his arrest.

The DOCTOR Says:

DIABETES MAY EXIST, THOUGH UNSUSPECTED

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Seventy cases of diabetes were found in a special survey of the citizens of Oxford, Mass. This total included 30 persons who did not know they had the disease.

Hugh L. C. Wilkerson, M.D., and Leo P. Krall, M.D., United States Public Health Service, who report their experience in the Journal of the American Medical Association, predict, on the basis of the survey, that diabetes is more common than has been realized.

Oxford has a population distribution roughly the same as that of the country as a whole. The first step in the survey was to set up centres in the town hall and the fire station. People were asked to come after their noon or evening meal, so that a specimen of blood and urine could be taken about one hour after eating.

Blood and urine examinations were made in special laboratories on the spot. A test to learn how effectively certain patients could handle sugar, was done. After an overnight fast, suspects were given a quarter of a pound of dextrose by mouth, following which blood and urine specimens were examined for sugar until the blood had returned to normal.

Although diabetes is thought to be much more common in women than in men, in the new cases discovered in the survey men and women were equally represented. They were between 55 and 60 years of age, and over one-third told of other members in their family having diabetes.

SYMPTOMS PRESENT

The majority of new diabetes discovered by the survey had symptoms suggestive of diabetes, although they had not realized they had the disease. Warning signs of diabetes are increased appetite and thirst, increased urination, itchiness of the skin, weight loss and crampy pains in the legs.

All persons past the age of 50 should have an annual health examination, even though they appear to be in good health. A test of the urine should always be done. In the interval between examinations, if the person develops signs of diabetes, urine should be retested as the disease develops slowly in many instances.

Question: My 23-year-old son itches severely after he takes a bath. What is the cause, and what can be done about it?

Answer: Excessive dryness and itchiness results from removal of too much oil in bathing. Condition can be relieved by application of a baby oil preparation.

BRIDGER TOLD TRUTH ABOUT PARK'S HOT SPRINGS

A century ago there lived a trapper and hunter known as Jim Bridger. This man roamed far and wide over the Rocky Mountain area. Some of his most enjoyable years were spent in the valley of the Yellowstone River.

Bridger died at the age of 77. During the last 30 years of his life his fame spread far and wide.

Clam Diggers Busy Again At Lagoon

A setting sun slants down on a group of clam diggers who use the Remembrance Day holiday to take advantage of the sand stretches at Esquimalt Lagoon, reopened to the public by the navy last week after being closed down as a prohibited area throughout the war.

He was known as a man who told wonderful tales about the things he had seen and done.

Some of the Bridger stories were far from being true. Others were half true.

One tale Bridger told was this: "In the Yellowstone I have caught a fish and have dropped it into a hot spring, without moving from where I stood, cooking it until it was ready to eat!"

Most persons supposed that Bridger was telling another tall tale, but visitors to the Yellowstone area have found that it was possible for Bridger or anyone else to perform the trick. Yellowstone lake has fish in it, and cones which rise above its surface contain hot springs. This makes it possible for anglers to catch fish and boil them, if they desire, without moving from a certain spot.

The government has allowed those who followed certain rules to fish in the lake and streams of Yellowstone Park. It is possible to boil a fish in the manner I have described, but many persons would rather treat fish in a different way. To "boil a fish alive" seems a cruel thing to do.

Altogether Yellowstone Park has about 3,000 hot springs. They differ in size and shape, and in the hotness of their water. In some of them the water is only lukewarm, but others have boiling water.

One hot spring is known as

"Morning-glory spring" because it has the outline of a morning-glory. Another is "Emerald spring," and it has a beautiful green coloring.

The water of hot springs is heated by hot rocks which exist only a short distance below the surface of the ground.

"Look, Daddy...
...it nearly fits!"

"You bet it does, son. You'll soon be racing down the old college gridiron."

"Will I really go to college, Daddy?"

"You certainly will... I'm making sure of that, now. Mummy and I've got a Savings Account at the Bank of Montreal that's growing just like you."

Many Canadian fathers—whether they had the chance to go to college themselves or not—are now saving at the B of M... making sure their sons will have that opportunity. They've learned from experience how helpful a sound education is to real success in life... and they know that a Savings Account at the B of M is a sound way to provide for it.

Your son's college education is too important to leave till tomorrow. Why not start a Savings Account at the B of M today and make it grow with him.

Western Mustangs Pick Off 10 All-Star Team Positions

TORONTO (CP)—University of Western Ontario Mustangs came bucking out of their corral today to sweep all but two of the dozen positions on the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union all-star team.

Their domination of the all-star squad, picked for The Canadian Press by football writers and coaches in the four union cities, came as no surprise. The Mustangs have roped and tied the opposition in spectacular fashion, rolling along at virtually a 40-points-per-game clip.

Possibly the greatest tribute paid by the selectors to the rambling outfit coached by Johnny Metras was the choice of Mustangs for the entire front wall of the "dream team." Three Western backfielders also were chosen while McGill Redmen and the Golden Gaels of Queen's each picked up a place.

The team: Flying wing, Don McFarlane, Western; half, Jack Parry, Western; half, Bob McFarlane, Western; half (secondary), Murray Hayes, McGill; quarter, Al Leonard, Queen's; snap, Ben Wilson, Western; in-

Shoot Deer With 'False Front'

NANAIMO—Another doe deer wearing a false front—antlers, no less—fell to the fire of Nimrod Kemp Brunt, 518 Victoria Road, near Campbell River, on a hunting trip this week.

When Brunt sighted the fleet-foot it sported a head decorated with four perfectly even antlers. His shots scored and it went 200 pounds on the scales. On closer examination he found his rifle had brought down a doe deer.

Brunt conveyed his prize to Na-

Kramer Receives $50,000 To Turn Pro

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Kramer, twice United States amateur singles tennis champion, Wednesday turned professional for an annual salary of $50,000, largest contract ever offered a tennis star.

Kramer will engage Bobby Riggs, national professional champion, in a tour opening in New York's Madison Square Garden Dec. 26. They will play from 50 to 60 matches on their tour, sponsored by Jack Harris, Chicago. The tour also will take them to South Africa.

Vic High Ruggers Edged By Cadets

Victoria High School senior A rugby squad put on a fine display before a good crowd of student supporters yesterday, although suffering a last-second 3 to 0 defeat at the hands of the strong Naval-Air Force College squad of the city intermediate loop. Cadets snatched victory when Tamowski booted a penalty from the 35-yard mark just at the whistle.

Winners opened strong making several flurries into the Vic High zone, but some fine tackling by the defenders held off a score. When cadets got through on a break, husky Bill Henderson saved a sure score, when he made a nice tackle near the line. Near the end of the half, Cadets missed a sure chance to forge

Syl Apps Bolsters Scoring Margin In Major Hockey Loop

Syl Apps, Toronto's veteran centre, flicked up a goal and an assist in Leaf's defeat last night to increase his first-place berth in the National Hockey League scoring race by two points. Apps has 14 points, made up of six goals and eight assists.

Buddy O'Connor of Rangers tallied a goal to take over sole possession of second place with 12 points. Bryan Hextall of Rangers garnered a goal and an assist to move into two-way split for third place with Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard, who was idle last night, each with 11 points. Elmer Lach of Canadiens holds down the fourth spot with 10 points, then comes Harry Watson of Leafs and Toe Blake of Canadiens with nine points each.

Leaders follow:

Apps, Toronto	G.	A.	Pts.
O'Connor, New York	6	4	12
Hextall, New York	5	6	11
Richard, Montreal	5	6	11
Lach, Montreal	7	3	10

Y.M.C.A. Badminton Officers Elected

Ray Payne was elected president of the Y.M.C.A. Badminton Club at a meeting held last night. Dorothy Jones was named vice-president with Elizabeth Loggie, secretary-treasurer; Jim Grist, Jack Tollerton and Jack Baylis, members of the committee.

Play will take place Saturday afternoons and Wednesday afternoons and evenings. Membership is open to all Y.M.C.A. members. The regular So-Ed meeting Friday will take the form of a panel discussion: "How To Be Happy, Though Married" will be the subject.

Rev. William Hills, Mrs. E. M. Campbell, social welfare, and Mrs. D. House, Parent-Teacher Association, will form the group.

Pro Basketball Loop Halts Operations

CHICAGO (AP)—The Professional Basketball League of America will cease to function as a league and all 16 teams will cancel games as of today, James O. Brooks, attorney for Commercial Sports Advertisers Inc., owners of the league, said today.

Brooks said the reason for abandoning the set-up is "that the league attendance has been financially unsuccessful."

Brooks said Commercial Sports was the parent organization which owns all of the league franchises.

The suspension leaves two major professional basketball loops—the National League and the Basketball Association of America.

Calgary Stampede In Hockey Victory

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampede, winging back into the game on a pair of goals netted by Tony Desmarais midway through the third period after spotting Edmonton Flyers a pair in the middle session, Wednesday night won 3 to 2 over the visitors.

Durocher Refuses To Disclose Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lippy Leo Durocher said Wednesday an announcement on his possible re-affiliation with Brooklyn Dodgers, which he managed before his suspension, would have to come from the club management.

"I haven't applied for any baseball job," he said. "It is up to Branch Rickey to say whether Brooklyn has made me an offer. I won't comment on that or on whether I've signed a contract."

Phil Palmer Drops Fight With Bratton

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Bratton, Chicago, 141, redeemed himself with his admirers by scoring a technical knockout over his out-classed opponent, Phil Palmer, Vancouver, B.C., in the seventh round of their bout set for 10 rounds in Chicago Stadium. Palmer was dropped for a nine-count in the second round and was in retreat the rest of the way.

Jimmy Bivins, cagey heavy-weight veteran of Cleveland, although outweighed 24½ pounds, hopelessly outclassed a heavy-weight newcomer, Sid Peaks, Charleston, Ind., in their 10-rounder.

to create a three-way tie for second place in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

It was Stamp's first victory in five starts and moved them level with Saskatoon Quakers and Lethbridge Maple Leafs, the latter winning at Saskatoon last night to help create the triple deadlock.

into the lead when they missed a free kick from about 12 yards out.

Vic High applied the pressure to open the second half, penetrating deep into Collegians' zone, but could not score. Play returned to midfield, but towards the end of the tilt, Cadets began to press, setting the stage for Tamowski's beautiful kick taken from a difficult angle.

Out at Royal Roads, Vic High's second senior A squad engaged the home squad in a 3 to 3 tie.

Weather Calls Halt To Racing Programs

SALEM, N.H. (AP)—Horse racing at two New England tracks Rockingham in New Hampshire and Lincoln Downs in Rhode Island, was canceled Wednesday as a howling easterly rainstorm suddenly turned to snow.

Shortly after a rain and snow-laden gale ripped loose 30 feet of the rail at the new Lincoln Downs track and brought cancellation of the day's racing card, Rockingham Park was forced to suspend, three races uncompleted.

Officials at Rockingham, oldest of New England's four principal tracks, said it was the first time in the history of the track that racing had been canceled on account of snow.

They said that blinding snow swirling above a muddy track made visibility so poor and conditions so dangerous that it was decided to call the program off after the fifth race.

Andre Gide, French Author, Awarded Nobel Literature Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The French author, Andre Gide, received the Nobel Prize in Literature today.

The Swedish Academy of Literature selected the 77-year-old author, for 40 years a leader among French writers. Swedish literary circles acclaimed the choice.

His friends had testified that Gide still is "unusually vital in modern currents of art."

Gide's Swedish translator, Dr. Schildt, described Gide as "a Communist against Stalin and a Christian against the church." The author visited Russia in 1933 at the invitation of the Soviet government and spoke in Red Square. His address was at the funeral of Maxim Gorki, the Russian writer.

The Nobel Prize awards for physics and chemistry were to be announced tonight.

Gide, bald, bespectacled and a lifelong bachelor, announced early in the 1930's that he had become a Communist. His enthusiasm for communism was at a peak from 1933 to 1936. He visited Moscow in 1936 when the purge trials were on, and returned to Paris to write a book of bitter disillusionment with Josef Stalin's Soviet Union. Many French intellectuals joined Gide in reaction against communism.

He is the eighth French author to receive the Nobel award for literature. Gide has written constantly for 55 years. He was born in Paris of prosperous parents Nov. 21, 1869.

The Swedish Academy said the award was given Gide "for his extensive and artistically important authorship, in which he has exposed the problems and conditions of humankind with fearless love of truth and psychological perception."

Victoria Architect Passes Suddenly

Hugh Carlton Perram, well-known Victoria architect, passed away suddenly Wednesday evening at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

He collapsed from a heart attack while at work in his office here. A native of Aurora, Ont., Mr. Perram was administrator for National Housing reconstruction here. He formerly practiced his profession in San Diego and Santa Monica, Calif.

Surviving besides his widow, Nora, are two daughters, Mrs. R. Lorenzen, Long Beach, Calif., and Mrs. Irvin Johnson, Lehi, Utah; four sons, Hugh in Santa Monica, Ross in Los Angeles, Richard in Culver City and Peter at home; two sisters, Mrs. Frank C. Warren and Miss Norah Perram, both of Montreal; and two brothers, Walter in Victoria and Adrian in California.

The funeral service will be held from St. Mary's Church at 2 Saturday afternoon, Rev. F. A. Springborn officiating.

Hallowe'en Incident Brings Court Charge

Paul Case, Cordova Bay, was charged in Saanich police court this afternoon with assault against 13-year-old Sammy Rans, Cordova Bay Road, from an act which took place on Hallowe'en night at the bay. The youngster suffered a badly cut eye as a result of the alleged assault.

Jurymen Hear Evidence In Case Of Manslaughter

Evidence surrounding the death of John Raymond Gaffney, who was killed in a tragic accident at the Lamson Street railway intersection, Esquimalt, May 10, was heard at the trial of Robert Joseph Loney, charged with manslaughter, which opened in Assize Court today.

Loney is alleged to be the driver of the automobile which crashed into an E. & N. Railway locomotive at approximately 5.30 in the afternoon. Gaffney, an occupant in the automobile, died a day later from injuries. Another passenger, Allister McLeod, was seriously injured.

In his opening address to the jury, Crown Prosecutor W. C. Moresby, K.C., said the Crown would attempt to prove that Loney was driving at an excessive speed and failed to observe railway crossing signals which were in operation at the time of the accident.

H. M. McIntosh, civil engineer for the railway company, testified that when he arrived at the scene of the accident, he noticed a damaged car on the northeast corner of the railway intersection. The engine was derailed and the tracks partially torn up, he said. The victim died of serious head and face wounds, according to the medical evidence of Dr. George W. C. Bissett. Another witness, Norman N. Look, sales clerk, identified photos he took of the scene of the accident.

The case is still being heard. Gordon Cameron is counsel for the defence. Mr. Justice A. M. Manson is the presiding judge.

Herman Pleases Victoria Dancers

Woody Herman, noted band leader and clarinetist, brought his "woodchoppers" and "wood chips" to town, Wednesday, and was well received by Victoria dancers when he put his band through its paces at the Bay Street Armories last night.

Playing in the way that put him where he is on the ladder of musical fame and featuring solo performances by bandmen Trummy Young and Tommy Burns, Herman supplied the type of music that the dancers went to hear.

The performance given by the Herman aggregation marked the fourth appearance of a "big name" band in this city this year. Others to play here were: the late Jimmy Lunceford, Duke Ellington and Stan Kenton.

Veterans' Work Displayed In City

Citizens of Victoria have had a good opportunity of realizing what work is being done by occupational therapists and Red Cross workers in teaching hospitalized war veterans at the D.V.A. Hospital on Richmond Road to work with their hands, by viewing the display of veteran-made articles which has been on exhibit in a window of one of the downtown department stores all this week.

Hand-woven scarfs, knitted socks, patch-work animal toys, watercolor paintings, plastic dishes and seashell ornaments are but a few of the many articles on display.

Miss Felice Herbin and Miss Ann Bradshaw are in charge of occupational therapy and Mrs. Margaret Couture is instructor of crafts taught by the Red Cross at the hospital.

Sent To Trial

Jack McClelland and Robert McMillan, charged jointly with breaking and entering the Top Notch Cafe, 2204 Douglas Street, on Oct. 27, were committed for trial by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today at the conclusion of the preliminary hearing.

3 More Registrars For Voters' Survey

The number of temporary deputy registrars of voters to undertake a revision of the voters' list in Saanich electoral district before the by-election at which a successor to Mr. Justice Norman W. Whittaker will be named has been increased to 20. With 18 previously appointed, the provincial government by order-in-council this week has removed the name of C. Chisholm from the slate and added the names of C. B. Travers, H. W. Day and W. A. Deane.

The deputy registrars are making a house-to-house survey to rebuild the voters' list.

Pictographs Protected

The provincial government has taken action to protect some Indian pictographs, rock paintings, near Craig Lodge station on the P.G.E. railway.

By order-in-council 50 acres of land, one mile east of the station, have been reserved from alienation.

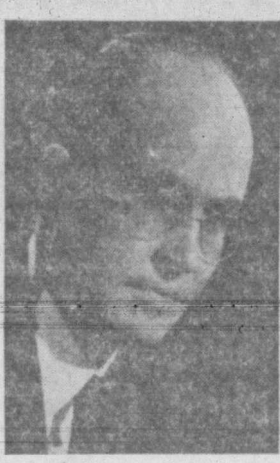

Blind Welfare Jeopardized If Community Chest Fails

M. C. Robinson, national director for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, today expressed grave concern for the welfare of the blind in Greater Victoria, resulting from the failure on the part of the citizens of Victoria to make the Community Chest drive meet its objective.

There are 110 blind people in Victoria of all ages and in varying financial circumstances, all of whom, however, are dependent in some way or another on the services of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and these services cannot be extended without the support of the Community Chest.

"Is there a man or a woman in Victoria," Mr. Robinson asks, "who for the sake of their donation to the Community Chest, would deny a blind person the privilege of listening to a radio or reading a Braille book? Are the blind to be denied employment opportunities because there are no funds available with which to find such opportunities?"

"I feel quite certain," said Mr. Robinson, "that the people of Victoria are not going to stand idly by and see their less fortunate fellow citizens suffer. We are just one of the 19 agencies whose services depend upon the financial support received from the Greater Victoria Community Chest.

"On behalf of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and all other participating agencies, I make an urgent appeal to every citizen in Victoria to support the Community Chest. Those who have not done so already, please do so now and perhaps in view of the emergency, those who have already given might find it possible to give some more."

Suicide Deaths Decrease In B.C. After War-end Rise

A rise in suicide deaths which followed hard on the end of the war appears to be leveling off in British Columbia.

The division of vital statistics today reported that during September suicide deaths were but seven, a drop of 50 per cent from the September, 1946, total of 14.

But while suicide deaths have decreased there has been a marked increase in the number of motor vehicle fatalities. During September of this year 20 persons died in highway accidents, bringing the total for the first nine months of this year to 136. One hundred and one persons died in motor accidents during the nine-month period of 1946.

Three persons died in mine accidents during September, while mechanical suffocation took two lives and accidental injury by firearms, one.

The division reported that September was the first month of 1947 during which no maternal deaths were registered. There were no maternal deaths in September, 1946.

On the other hand a sharp rise in infant mortality from the 10-date 1947 low of August was noted during September when 65 babies of less than a year died. During the previous September 51 infant deaths were registered. Infants under one day accounted for 32 of the 65 deaths registered last September.

Birth and death totals remained close to those registered in September, 1946, while September marriages this year increased slightly over the August total this year but failed to reach the number registered in the same month last year.

The birth rate for last September was 22.9 per 1,000 population, comparing with 22.7 for the previous September. Death rate for September, 1947, was 8.8 per 1,000 as compared with 8.9 during the previous September. There were 1,940 B.C. babies born this month and 745 deaths registered.

Community Chest Activities Continue

Activity to raise the remaining 40 per cent required on the Community Chest objective will continue next week Chest officials announced today.

Lantern Inn is staging a "Red Feather" evening, complete with dancing and floor show next Wednesday evening and all proceeds are to go to the Community Chest.

A heart-warming story came from the Junior High School home economics class at Ganges, Salt Spring Island. The youngsters made toffee apples for Hallowe'en and donated the $5.40 proceeds to the Community Chest.

Today the total receipts stand at $76,920, which is 59.2 per cent of quota. Business division has turned in $35,166; residential division $35,571; industrial $5,393; and rural $789. Philip Dewing, honorary treasurer, reported today that E. F. Wainwright leads the business division canvassers, having collected $8,501 to date.

J. J. S. Garner, deputy high commissioner for the United Kingdom in Canada, and Mrs. Garner will arrive in Victoria Nov. 27 for a brief visit.

Samples of various cement products and materials will be shown.

3 Services To Use Naval Hospital Facilities Here

Consolidation is now under way to avoid duplication of hospital services in the navy, army and air force. As a part of the program, Esquimalt naval base hospital facilities are to be used by personnel of the three services here.

The changeover has been going on for several months at Esquimalt, according to naval authorities. At Halifax, a similar consolidation is taking place.

Naden hospital will care for 2,500 officers and men of naval establishments here and 100 army and air force personnel from Work Point and Patricia Bay. Six naval medical officers are stationed at Naden, where Surgeon Cmdr. H. R. Rutan, O.B.E., is command medical officer.

Civil Marriages Increase In B.C.

The division of vital statistics reported today a gradual increase in the percentage of British Columbians being married by civil rites.

While in 1945 7.6 per cent and in 1946 7.9 per cent of the marriages registered in B.C. were effected civilly, for the first nine months of this year the percentage has jumped to 9.4.

Total of marriages recorded during September of this year total 1,116 compared with 1,191 in September, 1946, the division reported.

During September of this year divorces number 96 while during the previous September 105 were recorded.

Herring Catches Continue Heavy In B.C. Waters

British Columbia herring catches this year are running well ahead of any during seasons of the immediate past, the chief supervisor of fisheries in Vancouver said today in reporting the season's catch to date at 47,137 tons.

Heavy early runs off the lower east coast of Vancouver Island, where fishing halted last week with the catching of the 40,000-ton quota, are responsible for the major part of the season's catch to date but the west coast of Vancouver Island, where fishermen went late last week, is proving up.

The chief supervisor reported the west coast catch to last Saturday at 608 tons, while 671 tons had been taken in the upper east coast area, and 4,775 tons harvested in the Quathlani area.

In the central district No. 2, catches to last Saturday had totaled 350 tons. This area extends from Queen Charlotte Sound to Prince Rupert.

Bulk of the pack this year, which to last Saturday had totaled 689,661 48-pound cases, is going to the Dominion government to help bolster world food supplies.

At this time in 1946 435,297 cases had been canned. Reduction plants to date this year have produced 2,363 tons of herring meal, 378,081 gallons of herring oil, 1,134 tons of herring offal meal, and 236,763 gallons of herring offal oil.

5 Suits Of Men's Clothes Stolen

City detectives are investigating the break-in and robbery of the Victoria Tailors, 754 Yates Street, in which thieves stole five suits of men's clothes valued at $350. Entry was gained by using a ladder to reach a window which had been left unfastened at the rear of the building.

Det. Sgt. Henry Jarvis and Detective Angus Munro attended at the Northern Electric Co. Ltd., 831 Yates Street, this morning in response to a phone call the premises had been entered overnight and an attempt made to open the safe. A lever had been forced under the handle of the safe door, but it was not broken open. Detective John Lund attended for fingerprint investigation.

Blood On Slip Cover Of Car Like That Of Murdered Girl

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—Blood on slipcovers in an automobile allegedly abandoned by Fred Bussey, accused of murder, was of the same type as that of Betty Playford, the 11-year-old Owen Sound girl he is accused of slaying, Crown Prosecutor C. P. Hope contended today.

The slipcovers were introduced as evidence on the second day of the 23-year-old youth's trial on a murder charge Wednesday when police inspector Alex McLeod testified he had taken them from the car in which the Crown claims Bussey attacked the girl and smashed her head with a hammer, and today, defence counsel Louis Isaacs asked why they were introduced.

"There is human blood on them, of the type that came from this little girl. That's why the slipcovers were brought in," replied the prosecutor.

Despite defence objections, Mr. Justice D. J. P. Kelly ruled as admissible evidence concerning samples of hair taken from Bussey, former circus Barker who surrendered to Montreal police four days after the girl's body had been found in a ditch near her home Sept. 22.

Medical officers testified Wednesday concerning a single hair, identified as a man's, found on the girl's body.

It was indicated during Wednesday's sessions that the matter of whether Bussey is mentally sound may play a further part in the hearing.

Fire Warning System Cleared Mine Quickly When Danger Came

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—A carefully worked-out procedure to be used in case of an underground fire, paid off Wednesday for some 500 employees of the McIntyre Porcupine Gold Mine here. They were all brought to the surface within a matter of minutes while trained firefighting crews extinguished a small fire on the 2,785-foot level.

A report is expected to be issued on the cause of the blaze, believed to have started in a jacket a diamond drill had cast aside. Archie Graham, boss of the Timmins mine rescue station, and Inspector E. B. Weir of the Ontario Department of Mines, investigated immediately after the fire.

Underground fires which could trap workers in the labyrinths of underground tunnels and choke them with smoke and fumes are looked upon as one of the hazards of hardrock mining, and the mining companies see to it they can clear the workings of miners quickly when fire threatens. Standard procedure was put into operation at McIntyre Wednesday.

In the air compressor room, stench gas was fed into the compressed air system which operates the diamond drills and supplies oxygen to workers in remote sections of the mine.

At the first whiff of the foul-smelling gas, as it issued from diamond drills and air vents, miners headed for the hoist cages nearest to them. Immediately they were whisked to the surface.

For that shift, work was over for the day. From then until time came for the next shift to go on the job, special crews cleared the workings of the stench gas and smoke. The following shift started work on schedule.

New Theory on

How Earliest Americans Came From Asia

By ROBERT N. COOL

When the first Spanish conquerors landed in Central America they were surprised to be greeted not only as friends, but as long-awaited gods.

It soon turned out that the native Indians had a widespread tradition of bearded white supermen who once lived among them. Their features had been preserved in carvings, and they looked more like Europeans than like the dark-skinned and beardless Indians.

Who were these "gods," existing only in memory, who eased the invasion of Cortez's Spaniards in the 16th century?

Harold Gladwin, a United States archaeologist who operates a private laboratory at Globe, Arizona, believes that they were Greeks—descendants of mariners assembled by Alexander the Great in 323 B.C. Alexander died after building a mighty fleet in the Persian Gulf. What happened to his ships and their levantine crews became one of the mysteries of history. Now, in a forthright book, "Men Out of Asia," by Whittlesey House, Gladwin offers the hypothesis that Alexander's seamen coasted eastward around India to the islands of Polynesia intermarrying and eventually crossing the Pacific Ocean to Central and South America.

Physical characteristics, artifacts and customs are marshalled as evidence of this migration linking the New World with the Old via the Pacific perhaps 1,500 years before Columbus.

OTHER MIGRATIONS

But the Greeks weren't the only pre-Columbian migrants from Asia to the western hemisphere, according to Gladwin's figuring. Ranging far beyond orthodox theories (and emphasizing the sacred cows which he sets out to slaughter), the author has charted five earlier land migrations which brought the ancestors from about 25,000 B.C. to the dawn of recorded history.

It is no news that a land bridge once connected Alaska and Siberia, now separated by only 50 miles of water, and scholars long have held the opinion that primitive man came across it from the west. But what Gladwin calls an "isolationist" tendency among anthropologists has led them to conclude that the American Indians developed more or less independently of their fellow aborigines in Europe, Africa and Asia. It is this idea that Gladwin undertakes to disprove with his detailed schedule of prehistoric traffic across Bering Strait. Harvard anthropologist Ernest Hooton has called some of these theories "sacriligious bovidities," but he wrote a preface to Gladwin's work.

RACIAL BLEND

The first slaughtering of sacred cows, says Hooton, is Gladwin's contention that the Indians were culturally so indebted to the Old World. "The second," he writes, "is that the 'aboriginal' American Indians were not a homogeneous race of Mongoloids, but the blend of a succession of different racial migrants from Asia to the New World: first, low-browed Australoids; second, Negroid Folsom people; third, Algonquians of the beaky Fenimore Cooper types; fourth, Eskimos; and, finally, round-headed Mongoloid 'Indians.'"

Gladwin's idea of what these earliest migrants to America looked like, and when and how they came, are shown here. The sketches are reproduced from his book.

The maps also are based upon those in "Men Out of Asia." Gladwin makes no claim to infallibility. Nor did he originate all the theories he attempts to integrate. But his descriptions are striking.

His American "pioneer," the bulging-browed Australoids of 25,000 years ago, brought over the spear and throwing stick which is still found in Australia. Skirting the great glacier that extended as far south as Illinois, he headed for the Southwest, Central and South America, says the author.

Millenniums passed; the weather got warmer, Gladwin continues. Little-known Folsom man crossed central Canada, camped on what are now the great plains, eventually disappearing. But his contributions, baskets slung from a strap around the head and the technique of killing buffalo by driving them over cliffs, remained.

The Algonquin, who looked a little like the later Indians, made the trek from Asia between 2,500 and 500 B.C., after water already had separated the continents. With him came the stone hatchet. He was followed by Eskimos who stayed in the far north, the glacier having by then receded.

The fifth migration, according to Gladwin, took place about 300 B.C. By that time North America was physically pretty much what it is now. These people had bows and arrows, markedly resembling the Indians of later date. In the northwest they took two routes; one into the warm southwest, already a favored locale of man, the other eastward into the woodlands where their descendants mingled with earlier types to form the classic image of the American Indian as the white men first saw him.

That is how one archaeologist reconstructs man's unrecorded past on the American continent.

But the average profit of ALL companies over a period of years is only a little more than four per cent—nearly always less than six per cent. That's the cost of using saved-up capital, of buying the brains of people who run businesses. The rest (even taxes) goes to wages and salaries, directly and indirectly.

That must be the reason why the business of trying to jack wages up suddenly and not raise prices is about as profitable as chasing the weasel round and round the mulberry bush!

JIM WEST SAYS

WAGES AND PRICES

I guess just about the hardest thing to figure out is what part of the cost of things we consume is represented by wages and salaries.

A lot of people would say about 50 per cent, and point to some particular company's figures to prove it.

But then what about the cost of the raw materials used in manufacture? About half their cost, too, went directly into wages and salaries.

And what about the cost of fuel? Most of that is wages and salaries.

What about the cost of new machinery, of freight, of cartage, of mail, of taxes and a hundred and one other things that all went into the company's general costs? Weren't they all made up mainly of the cost of wages and salaries?

For that matter, since everything in business and industry is done by people who have to be paid for what they do if they're going to keep on doing it, what else enters into the cost of what we use other than wages and salaries?

"Ah," someone says. "Profits!"

But the average profit of ALL companies over a period of years is only a little more than four per cent—nearly always less than six per cent. That's the cost of using saved-up capital, of buying the brains of people who run businesses. The rest (even taxes) goes to wages and salaries, directly and indirectly.

'Pimpernel' Creator, Baroness Orczy, Dies

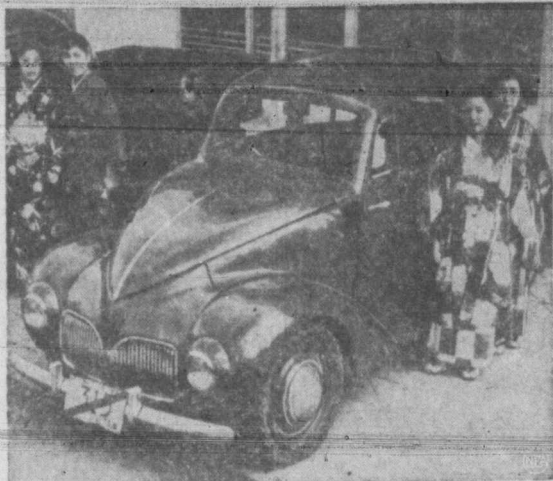

LONDON. (Reuter)—Baroness Orczy, 80, author of the Scarlet Pimpernel novels, died here Wednesday.

The Hungarian-born baroness married an Englishman Montague Barstow. He died in 1943.

In half a century Baroness Orczy wrote more than 50 novels and plays, including many detective stories and tales of the French Revolution. Her play, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," was a stage hit in the early years of this century.

During the Second World War Baroness Orczy was kept under surveillance by the Germans at her villa in Monte Carlo.

Baroness Orczy visited Victoria in the course of a tour of Canada and the U.S. in 1925. She addressed the Women's Canadian Club here.

Bumper Wheat Crop Still Held Possible In U.S. Despite Delay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bumper wheat crop in the U.S. is still possible next year despite a serious seeding delay in the great plains, agriculture department officials said today.

A department crop report Wednesday said about 25 per cent of the intended wheat acreage in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and New Mexico remained unseeded Nov. 1 because of critically dry weather.

These six states produced about 49 per cent of this year's record crop of 1,406,000,000 bushels.

The report said seeding has progressed well, however, and what now appears to be an increased acreage in all other important producing areas.

Officials said that assuming next year's production in the six drought-affected states is only half this year's, it still would be possible, on the basis of present prospects, to harvest a total crop of at least 1,000,000,000 bushels.

The United States has produced only four crops of that figure or more, and they were grown during the last four years. Wheat output averaged 890,000,000 bushels for the 1936-45 period.

While officials would like to see another record crop because of the world grain shortage, they point out that a billion-bushel yield still would permit the United States to export a much larger quantity of wheat in the 1948 crop year than it normally shipped before the war.

The crop report emphasized that wheat prospects are particularly good in the Pacific northwest, in most Rocky Mountain states and in the east.

CLEAN SPRAYER

Neglect in cleaning, lubricating, adjusting and storing sprayers shortens the life of a machine more than the actual work done. Sprayers are attacked by corrosive materials in the spray when they are idle, and for this reason they should be thoroughly cleaned after using. Since this corrosion goes on each hour the machine stands, neglected, it is suggested during the active season growers wash out the sprayer each night with clear water.

5,000 Children To Sing At Festival In Victoria Schools

Approximately 5,000 children of Greater Victoria schools are practicing singing these days in preparation for the music festival which will start Monday, John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, said today.

Six regional centres will be in operation between Nov. 17 and Nov. 25, at which choral groups from 26 schools will sing. This is the first music festival taking in all of Greater Victoria schools, and E. Hulet, choirmaster of First United Church, will act as commentator. He will also conduct the children in mass singing after they have sung individually in groups.

The first of six evening concerts, open to the public, will be given at Lampson Street School Monday evening. There will be a composite program by pupils from Lampson Street, Victoria West and Craigflower schools. The Esquimalt High School choir will appear under H. J. Bigsby.

Evening concerts will also be held at Cloverdale School, Wednesday; George Jay and Tolmie, Nov. 25; South Park, Thursday, Nov. 27; and Monterey, Friday, Nov. 28.

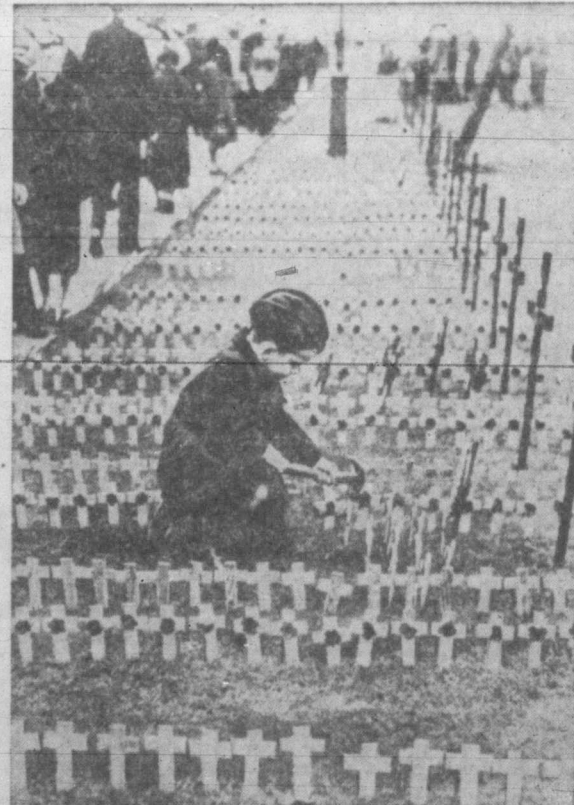

Children from grades 3 to 8 will participate in the festival and the singing will continue all day in the designated schools. The festival opens Monday at Lampson Street School, with Victoria West, Craigflower and Lampson Street school choirs singing.

Daily festivals will be held at other centres as follows: George Jay, Nov. 18; Cloverdale, Nov. 19; Monterey, Nov. 21; South Park, Nov. 24; and Tolmie, Nov. 25.

In charge of arrangements are: H. W. Creelman, W. McMichael, W. H. Muncy, H. C. O'Donnell, E. G. Woodward, Miss Lois Kinley, H. J. Bigsby, supervisor of music for Saanich and Esquimalt schools, and Mr. Gough.

CHECK CLEANER BAG

If your vacuum cleaner refuses to pick up the dirt, check the cleaner bag. It may need emptying. When you empty the bag, turn it wrong side out and brush it clean. Perhaps the nozzle or cleaner brush is improperly adjusted, or it may be a broken belt or the belt not revolving.

IN SILENT TRIBUTE—Five-year-old Alister Anderson of Eynsford, Kent, plants a small cross in silent tribute to the memory of his grandfather at the Field of Remembrance outside London's Westminster Abbey. The famed-honorary cemetery is opened annually as a memorial to the men who fell in the two world wars.

Emotional Troubles Bring Sufferings To Millions In U.S.

By ALTON J. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Millions of Americans live in "a hell on earth" of emotional troubles, but facilities for treating them are woefully lacking, a New York psychiatrist declared today.

In an address at the annual meeting of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, Dr. Sol Wiener Ginsburg said authorities had estimated a minimum of 21,000 psychiatrists is needed in the United States, with 4,000 now available—and that in New York City alone 75 per cent of persons needing and wanting psychiatric help cannot receive it for lack of facilities.

These cold figures were dramatized by the "fragments of tortured lives" depicted in letters received by the committee.

Nearly 2,000 letters poured in, he said, after a syndicated columnist (Mary Haworth) had advised one man to write to the committee for possible help. The man had had two nervous breakdowns, was depressed, and feared he was mentally ill.

The advice was unfortunate in that the committee itself cannot give medical advice, Dr. Ginsburg said. It is a voluntary organization working for the promotion of mental health, for prevention of mental and nervous disorders, and for improved care of the mentally ill.

But to many persons, the columnist's answer was the "first inkling that there is any kind of help at all, and that there is no stigma attached to mental illness."

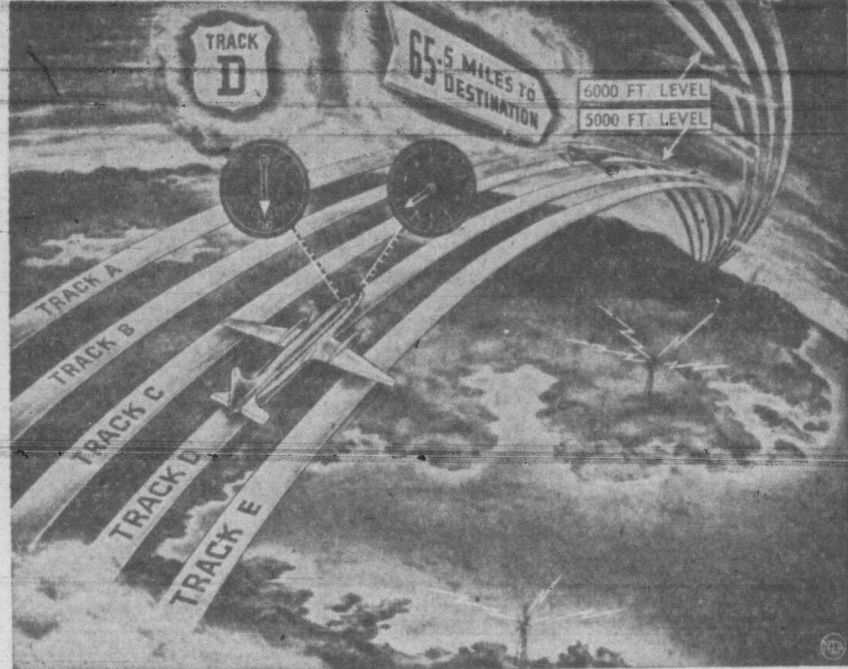

MANY PROBLEMS

Dr. Ginsburg, chairman of the committee on social issues of the group for advancement of psychiatry, said problems outlined in the letters included neuroses, marital problems, homosexuality, alcoholism, psychoses and depressions. Some asked for marriage counseling and educational or vocational guidance.

"It is clear that the great mass of the population is in no position to finance for itself even a minimum amount of psychiatric care," he said.

One woman, writing that she was fearful of losing her mind and couldn't afford a psychiatrist because of a sick child, had declared that "this is a hell on earth and I'm in it."

"These are words spoken for millions," Dr. Ginsburg said. "The task is for all of us and we must not fall those who are in hell on earth."

SUPER SKY-WAYS POSSIBLE WITH NEW DEVICE—Diagram above shows how a complex new device—the B-D Computer—may increase efficiency in the air, by permitting air routes to accommodate 10 lanes of traffic, whereas now they are limited to one. With five lanes at each of two altitudes, the "plane brain," making involved navigational computations from two different radio signals, tells the pilot (left dial) that he is on his assigned lane, and (right dial) how far he is from his destination. The mechanism, now being exhaustively tested, was developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company.

MOTHERS!.... Now you can give your young baby complete high-quality protein in MEAT specially prepared for him!

All nutritional statements made in this advertisement are accepted by the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association.

6 STRAINED—6 DICED MEATS

Beef	Lamb	Pork
Veal	Liver	Heart

In just 25 years the science of Infant Feeding has made tremendous strides. Today's baby is no longer fed milk exclusively. At just a few months of age he gets additional supplies of vitamins and minerals from vegetables, fruits and cereals. Meat, of course, is a natural extension of baby's diet. But until now meat feeding has frequently been delayed because of the tiresome job of preparing it in proper form for baby.

NOW at last—without tedious scraping, sieving and cooking—you can give your baby protein-rich meat in a specially prepared form. For the first time, Swift Canadian Co. Limited has developed special Meats for Babies—Strained for young babies, Diced for juniors. And such convenience—Swift's Meats are ready to heat and serve!

Baby needs proteins for proper growth and development. Rightly, proteins have been called the "building blocks of the body." Meat, of course, is one of the finest sources of complete high-quality proteins (providing all the essential amino acids). And meat is not only rich in protein. Its B vitamins and minerals help your baby grow strong and straight. Its iron (often inadequate in the baby's diet) helps build good red blood cells.

Strained Meats for Babies, Diced for Juniors

For young babies, Swift's Meats are chopped up fine and then strained. Only quality cuts are used. Fat is trimmed off completely, leaving only the finest lean meat. Baby needs less fat than you. All the wholesome natural meat flavour is retained in cooking. And the soft, smooth texture, so easy to swallow, is just right for baby.

For juniors, Swift's Meats are diced to baby-bite size cubes for baby to chew on. And like Swift's Strained Meats, Swift's Diced Meats for Juniors are cooked just right in vacuum-sealed tins to retain a maximum of vitamins and minerals.

Six Different Kinds of Meat!

Your food store has all six Swift's Meats: beef, lamb, pork, veal, liver and heart. Strained Meats come in 3½-oz. tins. Diced Meats in 5-oz. tins. Approximately two servings each. Ask your doctor when to start giving your child Swift's Meats for Babies or Meats for Juniors.

Saanich Farmers' Group Opposes Town Planning

SIDNEY — Application of the Town Planning Act to the agricultural area of North Saanich district, has been opposed, as not in the best interests of the area, by a unanimous decision of the Agricultural Division of the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce.

Members stated further: "It is considered it would not be in the best interests of the agricultural areas of this district to be included with the Sidney area in the Town Planning scheme or in an incorporated municipal area."

"It is recommended that as a majority of those present at the public meeting in Sidney Nov. 6, voted in favor of a Town Planning Act, that it apply to the Sidney area only."

Division members said they would deplore any attempt by any members of the Chamber of Commerce to rush a Town Planning Act into effect before the special committee appointed to study the matter had had an opportunity to meet and report.

"The North Saanich district enjoys a position and conditions unlike any other district in the province and it is not thought possible to zone the district as prescribed by the act in a manner acceptable to all the taxpayers," C. R. Wilson, chairman of the division said.

"The fact that this act must be accepted in its entirety would divorce its usefulness from the agricultural areas," he said. "The restrictive and compulsory building regulations would deny to the enterprising young farmer, the opportunities afforded those already established."

"The building restrictions would deprive all but the wealthy man of the opportunity to get started on a farm of his own."

Best Way To Keep Preachers Down On The Farm Is To Give Them One

Rev. Moyne Landis (left) of the Oakland Church of the Brethren, Gettysburg, Ohio, and a parishioner cool their hoes in the church tomato patch, where they work on "The Lord's Acres."

By JAMES E. HELBERT
DAYTON, O. (NEA) — Rural churches are learning how to keep their preachers down on the farm.

They're providing the farms. Faced with the prospect of ministers deserting back country parishes for bigger communities and determined that "the little brown church in the wildwood" would not disappear as the little red schoolhouses have, many midwestern country parishes are offering their preachers a farm of their own.

And city ministers, squeezed by the high cost of living, are beginning to realize the attractions of a few acres, a milk cow, chickens and a pig or two.

Other country parishes have set up small farms as "The Lord's Acres," where the minister, deacons and the congregation farm together to raise and can food for European relief and for U.S. charities.

Rev. Russell Hoy of the Methodist church at Canal Lewisville, Ohio (population 233), tells the city brethren:

"My family and I decided upon a rural parish after 12 years in large industrial and small city communities. We have found nothing unifies the family so much as the mutual experience we share on our homestead of 23 acres which go with this charge."

Rev. Hoy finds the solitude of the corn row and the cool shade of an apple tree a far better place to think out a sermon than his former city study which resounded with clanging streetcars, screaming sirens and alley ball games.

Lees Creek Congregational Christian Church in Clinton County, Ohio, built a new parsonage and bought 20 acres of tillable land to go with it. Then the deacons advertised for a man of the gospel "who is as willing to sweat over a bean patch as over the backsliders of this community." Lees Creek got him, too, and judging from the bulging sides of his vegetable bin, his fat hens and plump pigs, he won't be seeing much of the grocer and butcher this winter.

PREACHER BEHIND PLOW

Various denominations throughout Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and other central states have joined the drive to put the preacher behind the plow because as Dr. A. S. Watson, former president of Wilmington College in Ohio, says:

"Rural communities are the seedbeds of our cities and of all American life. The church, perhaps, is the best institution to serve as development centre for this important unit of society. We are trying to preserve that centre."

This autumn finds more ministers actually laboring in the fields than at anytime since the days of the circuit riders.

Astronomers Told Of Giant Reflector

Processes involved in manufacturing the world's largest reflector which is soon to be put into use at the Mount Palomar Observatory in California, were reviewed Wednesday night by Miss Jean Macdonald, secretary of the Royal Astronomical Society of Victoria, in an address before her fellow club members.

Miss Macdonald described the huge reflector which is 200 inches in diameter and which weighs 16 tons, and discussed the possible astronomical theories it might be able to prove.

The speaker noted the primary purpose of a large reflector is to facilitate more light-gathering power rather than greater magnifying potentiality. She added, however, that the new reflector has considerable magnifying power which could bring the moon within a range of 25 miles.

Hold Last Rites

Dean Spencer H. Elliott conducted funeral services Wednesday for Miss Agnes Mary Bromley, 67, of 702 Wilson Street.

A native of Bath, Staffordshire, England, Miss Bromley served as an ambulance driver in France in the First World War. She had resided in Canada for the past 20 years. A sister resides in England.

Pharmacist Exams

Thirty-one new pharmacists graduated in British Columbia following the recent examinations of the Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia, according to Hedley Porter, registrar of the association.

Roy D. Brown headed the list of those passing in the ordinary examinations of the association. Mr. Brown resides at 2069 26th Avenue East, Vancouver. Second on the list was Miss Doris C. Wyndham, 127 Howe Street, Victoria.

Judith Learoyd, Victoria, and John Revers, Victoria, were among those who passed.

Among those granted supplementary examinations was Erica M. Kuster, Victoria, botany prescriptions.

'HENS FOR HARRY'—Irate poultry raisers, in protest against poultryless Thursdays, shipped 13 crates of live chickens to Washington for President Truman and Charles Luckman, chairman of the Citizens' Food Committee. The crates were labeled "Hens for Harry" and "Leeghorns for Luckman." Chickens ended up at the Salvation Army, where Mrs. Roa L. Cooper and her son, Oscar (above), sort them.

Stamp Issue In January To Mark Royal Wedding

OTTAWA (CP) — A special 4-cent postage stamp will be issued next Jan. 15 to commemorate the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

The stamp, which will supplement the regular 4-cent denomination for two or three months, will bear a portrait of the Princess.

The color of the issue has not yet been decided, but probably will be of reddish brown. The stamp will be of approximately the same size as the current 4-cent issue.

James Mason Stars In 'Odd Man Out'

"Odd Man Out," which opened today at the York Theatre, is said to be a masterpiece.

James Mason and Robert Newton are starred, with supporting roles going to Fay Compton, Kathleen Ryan and the Dublin Abbey Players.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Rated as one of the gayest romantic comedies in years, "The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer," now at the Capitol Theatre, co-stars Cary Grant, Myrna Loy and Shirley Temple in a story of a famous painter's unintentional love affair with an impressionable teen-age girl. Rudy Vallee, Ray Collins, Harry Davenport and Johnny Sands head the supporting cast.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—Bing Crosby and Bob Hope in "Variety Girl."
CAPITOL—The Bachelor and the Bobby-Soxer, starring Cary Grant.
DOMINION—"Riff-Raff," starring Pat O'Brien and Anne Jefferys.
OAK BAY—"The Egg and I," with Claudette Colbert.
PLAZA—Phyllis Calvert in "Time Out of Mind."
RIO—Errol Flynn in "Objective Burma."
ROYAL—Victor Mature in "Kiss of Death."
YORK—"Odd Man Out," starring James Mason.

ROYAL THEATRE

Brian Donlevy has one of the finest roles of his career in "Kiss of Death," the new 20th Century-Fox film in which he is starred with Victor Mature and newcomer Coleen Gray. But Brian's role in the film now at the Royal Theatre—that of a gangster-wise assistant district attorney—almost landed him in the house-gow.

Through police co-operation, one scene was filmed in New York City's famed jail, The Tombs. The company was isolated on the ninth floor where they were assigned to a 100 feet of corridor and the adjoining cells. The assistant warden warned everyone to stay within this area and everything would be all right.

PLAZA THEATRE

Ella Raines once stated that all she wanted to play on the screen were "shiny-faced working girls." But that was five years and several pictures ago.

The green-eyed, brown-haired beauty, now realizes that if she stuck to her guns about playing "shiny-faced working girls" she never would have gotten the part of the possessive sister in "Time Out of Mind," a Universal International hit now at the Plaza Theatre.

Few Movie Fields But Acting Now Open To Newcomers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Time for some Saturday shop talk: The venerable American legend of crashing the movies is becoming more remote every day. Virtually no field in the motion picture industry is open to newcomers, except acting. And the odds against becoming a film star are stratospheric.

The situation was brought to my attention by a noted screen writer, who has a son who wanted to get into the movie business. The writer, who has good connections at several studios, tried to get the boy in any department—costuming, photography, production. He was balked, either by union rules or overcrowding on jobs.

As a lark, the boy joined a small local theatre. In his first stage role he was tabbed by a trade paper review as a likely bet for movies. Now he has an agent and is taking a test at a big studio next week. He had to turn to acting as a last resort to get into pictures.

TALK OF THE TOWN
The talk of the town is not the Congressional investigation, but Kay Thompson and the Williams Brothers, a song-and-dance act that is packing Ciro's nightly. Irving Berlin has been there night after night, and even stay-at-homes like the Bing Crosbys, the Dick Powells and Clark Gable have been among the palm-pounders. It's the best new act in years.

This points a lesson—with vaudeville dead, new talent must come from the night clubs. Examples: Red Skelton, Danny Thomas, Peter Lind Hayes, etc. And if Americans must seek good live talent in niteries, this may have a serious effect on future generations.

Picture the future, night-clubbing citizen. His shoulders are stunted from being cramped into a space not large enough to house a phone booth for midgets. He is near blindness from peering through a smoky haze, and deafened by the dinning of public address systems.

The buffeting on a dance floor that resembles a rush-hour subway has made his body a mass of welts and bruises. He is laden with psychoses from the frustration of trying to catch the waiter's eye.

Obviously, he is broke.

But he has been entertained.

LEEDS—Lucy Bowling, 46, is to help ring a special peal of bells—the occasion being her own wedding with Canon Charles C. Marshall, 82, who recently resigned from the church.

For Eczema—Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to David Spencer Ltd. or any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, skin troubles.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

Long-Dry Ontario Village Goes Wet

TWEED, Ont. (CP)—Residents of this eastern Ontario village, a "dry" stronghold for 33 years, approved the opening of a liquor store and a brewer's warehouse, it was shown today in a count of ballots in a local option plebiscite.

Voters, turned out in force—more than 800 of an eligible 1,000—to vote 512 to 289 for the liquor store and 506 to 290 for beer. The "wets" lost out on a men's beverage room. Although voting 475 to 327 in favor, they fell four-fifths of 1 per cent short of the necessary 60 per cent in favor.

There was talk of a possible recount on the beverage room issue.

after the "wets" had claimed irregularities at the polls.

Dorothy DixSAVING UNHAPPY MARRIAGE

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am trying to start a new way of living. Will you please give me your opinion on what I am doing? I am 45. My husband is 44. We have two children. Have been married 22 years. I left my husband several times on account of his drinking, his beating me, and his vile accusations, but I always came back after pressure from lawyers and friends and his promises of doing better.

When one boy went into the army my husband started on another rampage, but when he hit me I struck back at him hard and hurt him. When he drank I did not even chide him. When he ran up bills I just kept enough money for the house and saw that he faced his creditors and paid them. I was going to leave him, but I thought out the situation and said to myself:

"Why not stay and do your household duties, which are light now? You will have to work very hard for the boy and could never give him the home and education his father can. You can really take life easy if you will quit worrying."

CAN HIT BACK

So that was that. Now my husband drinks or stays sober as he pleases, but he dare not hit me as I have shown him that I can hit back. To all appearances, I am his wife. I am a good housekeeper and a fine cook. I make him comfortable. And he does what he pleases. As I see it, I would gain nothing by leaving, nor by nagging or arguing. Am I right or wrong that I do not leave my husband and go to work in somebody else's house instead of my own?

YOUR FRIEND

Answer: You are putting into practice a plan that I have urged many times on women who have drunkards or philanderers for husbands, but who have children who need the security of a home and the many benefits that their father, who makes money, can give them and which the mother could not possibly earn for them.

When a wife has done all she can to try to wean her husband from vices without avail, her case is hopeless. There is nothing she can do to change him. She can either leave him, or have enough backbone to do as you have done and summon enough philosophy to make the best of a bad bargain.

And often it is better for her to endure the ills she has rather than to fly to those she knows not of. Often the man who is a bad husband is a good provider, and by keeping her home together she will be more comfortable herself and give her children better advantages than she could if she got a divorce and started out at middle-age to try to make a living, without

C.P.R. Finances
Require Higher Rates, Says Counsel

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway's finances are nearing a dangerous position, a C.P.R. spokesman told the Board of Transport Commissioners today.

C. F. H. Carson, chief counsel for the company in the railway application for higher freight rates, gave this warning as he continued final argument in the hearings before the board.

Mr. Carson concluded a 2½-day address early this afternoon. He was to be followed by F. C. S. Evans, also for the C.P.R.

Mr. Carson said railway witnesses had made it plain that failure of the company to obtain earnings necessary for requirements would lead to "nothing else but insolvency."

Accounting evidence presented for the C.P.R., Mr. Carson said, showed that under present costs the company was unable to earn enough money to meet its fixed costs and other requirements.

Mr. Carson said L. B. Unwin, C.P.R. vice-president for finance, had shown that, while traffic volume was high, net earnings were "falling far short of essential requirements."

Net earnings were the key to a company's credit standing, the lawyer said. For this reason, the C.P.R. had had extreme difficulty borrowing money during the depression, even at high interest rates.

At present, it could not raise money to meet requirements through the issuance of additional stock. The company's stock was quoted at only about half of par, and it was barred by law from selling it less than par.

The rail counsel said wartime operation had done little more than restore losses suffered during the depression years.

"The increase," he added, "was not as much as the earnings available for dividends and withheld from the shareholders."

Landlords Need Not Let Tenants Sub-let

TORONTO (CP)—Judge Ian Macdonell ruled that landlords have the right to refuse tenants to sub-let, when he heard an application made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Humenick for an order to determine whether or not the landlord had unreasonably withheld consent to an assignment of a lease.

"It seems to me that once a tenant has demonstrated he has no further need for accommodation himself the natural right of the landlord should be permitted to prevail," said Judge Macdonell.

The Ads With Only One Mission—To Serve You

We who live today, in the greatest Ad-age of all time, hear again and again the adage of the times, "It pays to advertise." And we know it pays. We see the evidence that it pays on every billboard and neon sign, in every magazine and radio commercial. But such advertising, with its clever copy-writing and fancy art work, costs too much for the individual to pay.

But there are Ads whose only purpose is to fill YOUR needs, their one mission—to serve YOU.

They are Times Want Ads. They have no costly illustrations, and need none. Nor do they need to rely on catch-phrase copy to attract readers. They are short, simple, inexpensive messages thousands look to every day for fulfillment of every need under the sun. Through them want-satisfaction is quick and sure, because they introduce buyer to seller, renter to tenant, worker to employer, and loser to finder.

Whatever need you may have—Money, Help, Housing, Job, or anything else—the easy way to fill it is the way thousands of Victorians have for over 60 years.... entrust your mission to a Times Want Ad.
